Sally Out In Council Bid

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Supporters of Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) came, spoke but didn't conquer for her the fourth seat on the Sausalito City Council.

The seat, left open with last night's resignation of Mayor Paud Micou, was promptly filled by council choice of a former councilman, Earl F. Dunphy.

"We object to the appointment of anyone replacing Paul Micou until we can file a more complete petition, and we ask for a one-week extension so we can better prepare our protest," said Mrs. Edwin L. Miller Jr. of 18 Girard Avenue. She spoke for the Sausalito Citizens Committee, formed Monday night to attempt to seat Mrs. Owen, who ran fourth in the April 14 election of three council members.

Council chambers were packed and people stood in the aisles. Mrs. Owen sat in the center of the hall but did not speak.

"It only proves they have a clique in the town and they elect their own clique and that's it," she said outside on the sidewalk after the meeting.

Richard Christian, Mrs. Owen's campaign manager, said 300 names had been collected on a petition asking that Mrs. Owen be selected for the vacancy. Mrs. Miller declared the citizens committee will still meet May 4 in IDESST Hall.

Micou, whose term will expire in 1966, is leaving Sausalito to become a foreign service reserve officer with the State Department's Agency for International Development.

Melvin S. Wax, newly-seated councilman who nominated Dunphy, asked E. Warren Maguire, acting city attorney, "is it legal?" He was told, "Yes, the power of appointment lies with the council."

"I move nominations be closed," said Wax, and the council voted 4-0 its approval.

Dunphy promptly took the oath of office.

Dyk, newly-elected mayor, said Dunphy has been a Sausalito resident 46 years, has served on the city council two full

Ballot On Fluoridation Due North Marin Area

Could Be At June 2 Primary

Residents of the North Marin Water District may vote on fluoridation of their water supply June 2.

Directors of the district last night voted to hold an advisory election on the question of whether the water should be fluoridated, and to ask County Clerk George H. Gnoss to conduct it in connection with the primary election "if there is time."

Gnoss said today it could be done "if I consent."

MAILING ASKED

Frederick Bold, attorney for the water district, said the county clerk merely would be asked to mail sample ballots to be supplied by the district, and to have election officials pass out and tally ballots which would be separate from those of the primary.

There would be no pro and con arguments included with the sample ballots, the directors decided, "since the public is already sufficiently well informed on the subject of fluoridation."

OPINION SURVEY

Call of the election was urged by Duane Butler of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, who presented the water board the results of a recent public opinion survey con-

BUT ACTION PLANNED

Bruce Asserts Rabid Skunk Stink Is Slightly Overblown

The rabid skunk stink in Marin County "has been somewhat overblown," County Administrator Alan Bruce told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday. See today's Editorial page 32).

But new plans for handling skunks have been drawn up and will go into effect soon, assuring quick action on any possibly rabid animal at any time of the day, any day of the week, he promised.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker complained that a recent case of a rabid skunk in Lucas Valley revealed that authorities were reluctant to handle such matters on weekend, when only a standby crew is on duty for the Marin County Humane Society.

Under the new plans, Bruce said, local law enforcement agents will respond immediately to a report of a skunk acting erratically. The officer will make a complete report to the health department after killing the animal.

Bruce said that he has assurance that city police departments will cooperate in the program.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman said he had heard the health department objected to having possibly rabid skunks shot, but Bruce said the new policy states that shooting is all right as long as the animal's head is left intact, so that a check for rabies can be made.

After the animal is killed, Bruce said, it will be left at the site, protected from the curious, to be picked up soon after by a member of the County Fire Department for transportation to the health department in San Rafael.

Bruce said the County Fire Department will make the pickups, even in cities, since only in rare cases will entry into a

Proposed Budget Hike 35.5 Cents

The San Rafael Board of Education last night received but did not discuss a proposed budget for the high school district that would require an increase of 35.5 cents in district taxes.

Twenty-seven cents of the tax boost would go toward the district's building program.

The budget itself, recommended at $3,383,900, is $602,655 over the budget for the current fiscal year, and reserves in the proposed program for next fiscal year would still be too low.

The proposal as presented would provide $102,000 in reserves. The school board in the past has tried to keep this at $150,000.

The budget does not provide additional salary increases for teachers. Teachers have requested jacking up the present schedule with a resulting $111,-

Remodeling Assured At San Rafael High

After a week of phone calls from parents and some heated discussion last night, the San Rafael Board of Education made it clear that the main building at San Rafael High School will be earthquake-proofed and enlarged before a second gymnasium and shops are built at Terra Linda High School.

Last week the board received a recommendation from Supt. Bert C. Corona that the work at San Rafael High be delayed in favor of the Terra Linda projects. He said there is pressing need for space at Terra Linda.

Board Member Bella H. Aaron appeared ready last night to take Corona to task for the suggestion, but Chairman C. Paul Bettini intervened.

"Can I have the first word for a change?" he asked.

"Of course," said Mrs. Aaron.

Bettini then said he had asked that Corona put the construction priorities up for discussion. As a result of the discussion a week ago, board members asked if the San Rafael High could be done in two steps, first taking care of safety factors and then refurbishing and modernizing the building.

Architects Gromme and Priestley, in a letter to the board last night, said the two-phase suggestion would cost the district at least $35,000 more than the $542,000 estimated for doing the whole job at once. Also there would be two periods instead of one in which the building could not be used.

There were several other sets of figures which board member cited to show that the proposed two-phase rehabilita-

LBJ LAUNCHES FAIR DURING RACE RIFT

CORE Members Wave Freedom Placards As President Speaks Of World Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson, speaking over outcries of racial demonstrators at the opening of the New York World's Fair, said today that "free and unhindered criticism of men and ideas" is the "vital nourishment of freedom."

Johnson opened the fair with a prediction that peace is possible in this generation—earlier than might be expected.

Then he opened the huge United States exhibition building, where representatives of the Congress of Racial Equality were waving placards and chanting "Freedom! Freedom!"

Perhaps 15 or 20 persons were assembled 75 yards from the chief executive. They were blocked by a pool and by police barricades from the pavilion entrance where Johnson stood.

They waved aloft red and white banners. One said "CORE demands a fair share."

Clashes between civil rights demonstrators and police marked the rain-swept opening of the fair.

An intended stall-in to block highway traffic to the fair sputtered out, but picketing inside and outside the fairgrounds, arrests, disturbances and scattered violence were constant.

James Farmer, national director of CORE, was arrested outside the New York Pavilion shortly before Johnson arrived by helicopter. Police said Farmer blocked the pavilion entrance.

Engle Pullout, Denied; Brown Bars Bill To Let Him

COMBINED UPI & AP

It has been reported and denied that Sen. Clair Engle, (D-Calif.) is expected to withdraw his candidacy for re-election. And at the same time Gov. Edmund G. Brown refused to sign a bill that would allow Engle to drop out of the race.

The developments:

At Long Beach, the Long Beach Independent said today that Engle will withdraw his candidacy for re-election "in a matter of hours or days."

The newspaper quoted "a reliable source" — identified as a friend of the senator who declined use of his name — as saying new medical reports on Engle's progress since his brain surgery of last Aug. 24 "cannot match the demands of his financial backers in California."

Engle is being opposed in the race for California's Democratic nomination for his senate seat by both Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, and Alan Cranston, California state controller.

The newspaper's source said a setback in Engle's recuperation from brain surgery now appears "far worse than it was supposed to have been."

"At least six persons in the Engle campaign have gone back to Washington in the past three weeks, bound and determined to get his (Engle's) withdrawal or a medical report that would put him in the race," the source said. "All of them failed.

"It now is a question of whether the senator actually has the capacity to make the withdrawal himself or must depend on someone else to do it for him."

The source also said a recent report that Engle suffered a fall in his Washington home was false, but that it was "leaked as a cover for setbacks in his recuperation."

In Washington, a spokesman for Engle denied the report.

Paul Green, Engle's press aide, said the California senator was still waiting for a report from his doctors that would "tell the story of his condition."

Green said the report would be made public when it is received in a few days. "The senator has no plans to withdraw," he said.

The medical report, Green said, was expected "in the next day or two."

"As soon as we do we will make it public to everyone, not just to one newspaper on an exclusive basis," he said.

In Sacramento, Brown said he is willing to approve legislation letting Engle drop out of the election race, but not by means of a bill that he vetoed last night.

The measure Brown refused to sign was by Assemblyman Tom Carrell (D-San Fernando), chairman of Engle's campaign.

Even though it was introduced specifically to deal with Engle's case, the measure applied to any legislative or congressional candidate. That was the key to the governor's disapproval.

"I would approve such a measure if its provisions expired at the end of this year," he commented. Thus, he left the way open for Carrell to reintroduce a measure meeting Brown's objections.

The vetoed bill would have allowed candidates to withdraw up to 50 days before November voting because of ill health.

In the case of senatorial nominees, the state central committee would appoint a new candidate.

For the bill to affect Engle, the senator would have had to win the primary. Brown has endorsed Cranston for the nomination, in the belief that Engle's brain surgery last August left him unfit physically to run or serve.

Brown contended the Carrell bill, by allowing candidates to withdraw after nomination, could allow them "to select the party nominee in the general election. This practice would circumvent the choice of the people. This bill presents a radical change and if this change is necessary, it should be made only after careful study."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Hoover Says Reds In Rights Movement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says that "Communist influence does exist in the Negro (civil rights) movement."

In testimony given Jan. 29 but made public yesterday, Hoover told a House appropriations subcommittee that the Communist Party "has sought ways and means to exploit the militant forces of the civil rights movement."

He said the number of Negroes who turn Communist is "not the important thing" because "communism must build with non-Communist hands."

Hoover said Communists magnify and exploit racial incidents to generate tension in their effort at "infiltration, exploitation and control of the Negro population."

Brown Greeted By Friendly Pickets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown arrived at the Fairmont Hotel last night for a party celebrating his 59th birthday with advance warnings he would be greeted by a 200-man picket line.

Instead he found 12 pickets, one of whom serenaded him with a chorus of "Happy Birthday to You."

Brown exchanged pleasantries with the pickets and invited them into the hotel to join some 1,000 other celebrants at the birthday party. The pickets declined.

Spy Swap Deal Favorable To Soviets

LONDON (UPI)—British businessman Greville Wynne, imprisoned as a spy by the Soviets and exchanged this morning in Berlin for Soviet spy Gordon Lonsdale, returned to Britain today.

Lonsdale

Diplomatic observers in Moscow said the deal was a favorable one for Moscow since it freed a master Soviet spy sentenced to 25 years in exchange for a Briton accused of a relatively minor role and sentenced to eight years' confinement.

Wynne

They said that Wynne was accused only of being a courier, while Lonsdale headed a ring stealing important British military secrets.

The British foreign office announced the exchange several hours after witnesses reported it took place on the Berlin border at dawn.

The initiative for the swap came from the Soviets, the British spokesman said,, and the British agreed because of Wynne's poor health.

10 Sit-in Demonstrators Found Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Municipal Court jury returned guilty verdicts yesterday against 10 persons charged with disturbing the peace in connection with the Sheraton-Palace Hotel sit-in last month.

An additional 157 demonstrators arrested at the hotel currently are on trial in groups of 10.

The all-white jury of 10 women and two men deliberated 95 minutes before returning the verdict. All 10 defendants also are white.

During the trial, defense attorney Vincent Hallinan of Belvedere compared the demonstrators to "the patriots who threw the tea into Boston Harbor." He described their approach to civil rights as "moderate."

Faubus Announces For Sixth Term

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Orval Faubus, first Southern governor to gain worldwide attention for resistance to school integration, today announced he will run for his sixth two-year term.

The governor said he was running again for two reasons—one in response to thousands of requests from his faithful followers throughout the state, and secondly because he wanted to continue work on major projects of improvement he has started.

Republicans Renew Budget Cut Demands

GOP Answers Statement On 'Being Close'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republicans renewed demands today for major cuts in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 3.67-billion-dollar budget.

It was their reply to the governor's statement that "we're very close" to agreement on the big appropriation bill which has been stalled for five weeks.

SOME PROGRESS

Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Oakland), chairman of the Assembly's Republican caucus, reported some progress in talks with Finance Director Hale Champion.

He said, however, the administration still hasn't offered terms that would prompt the Republicans to support the budget.

Refusal of the Republican minority to vote for Brown's spending program forced the Democratic governor to call a special session March 30 after the 30-day budget session ended in a deadlock.

4 VOTES NEEDED

The budget has been sitting in committee while the 50-member Democratic majority tries to round up the required 54 votes for passage b ythe Assembly. The Senate is 27-13 Democratic.

Negotiations have been based on the GOP caucus proposal for 63.5 million dollars in reductions, including 27.8 million dollars for welfare.

Brown told his news conference yesterday that it may be possible to trim the welfare appropriation but that there was no chance of acceding to the full Republican demand.

The governor said welfare costs have been over-estimated in the past two years but that "we don't spend any more than we have to."

Mulford emphasized that the Republicans don't seek to eliminate any services for welfare recipients. What they're after, he said, is to "see that welfare is put on a business-like basis."

New Jersey Negro To Run For Congress

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—One of the most placid primary elections in recent history left New Jersey today with an uncommitted delegation to the Republican National Convention and the first Negro congressional candidate ever to run on a major party ticket in the state.

The organization slate of Republican delegates-at-large led by as much as 10 to 1 over three pro-Barry Goldwater candidates who were running without the Arizona senator's permission or help. Counting of returns from yesterday's election was slowed by overloaded ballots.

The Negro congressional candidate is William L. Stubbs, 46, Newark automobile dealer who won a three-way primary contest in the 11th District. He defeated a Negro doctor and a white lawyer. Stubbs will oppose Democratic Rep. Joseph G. Minish in November.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge garnered about 40 per cent of the informal Republican presidential preference vote, with Sen. Barry Goldwater second and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon third.

ATOM-BUILT CANAL COULD BE DEADLY

Nuclear Blast For Peaceful Purpose Just As Deadly As Bomb, Davis Session Told

DAVIS (AP) — A nuclear explosion for a peaceful purpose such as digging a canal can create a fallout as deadly as a wartime bomb, atomic engineers were reminded today.

Some 400 of the engineers are attending the third Plowshare Symposium, a three-day conference on the University of California's Davis Campus.

Plowshare is the Atomic Energy Commission's program to explore peaceful applications of nuclear explosives.

Morning session papers dealt mostly with radioactivity hazzards. The dangers, it was noted, are not confined to atmospheric tests, which have been banned by treaty.

Radionuclides from underground explosions can be carried long distances by groundwater flow—and show up in the kitchen tap, pointed out F. W. Stead of the U. S. Geological Survey, Denver, Colo.

"Where adequate precautions have been taken, as at the Nevada test site," the research geologist said, "no significant post explosion movement of radionuclides can as yet be demonstrated."

But Stead urged that each proposed site of a nuclear explosion in the Plowshare program be carefully evaluated for hazards from groundwater flow.

Kaiser Hits Cuba Trade As Pierre Tours Bay

SAN FERNANDO (UPI)—Leland F. Kaiser, Republican U.S. senatorial candidate yesterday urged that the United States quit trading with nations still doing business with Cuba while Pierre Salinger, aspirant for the Democratic nomination, endorsed plans to expand U.S. aid to education.

Kaiser of San Francisco told the San Fernando North Valley Young Republicans the United States should give such nations "the choice of trading with us or trading with Cuba . . . I have no doubt what their decision would be."

Kaiser said prestige of the United States had hit a new low.

"We find ourselves in this sad and ridiculous position because of our weak-kneed policies, our failure to enforce the Monroe Doctrine and to throw out the Communist government in Cuba," he said.

Salinger continued today stumping the San Francisco area in his campaign for the Democratic nomination.

The former White House secretary spent the morning at San Francisco State College, addressing the student body.

He planned to attend a fund-raising reception for St. Rose Hospital of Pleasanton at Castlewood Country Club this afternoon and then outline his views on civil rights in an address at Stanford Memorial Auditorium.

In a speech at San Mateo High School last night, Salinger endorsed the efforts of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations to expand aid to education.

Korean Riots End

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Student demonstrations subsided today after five days of bloody clashes. The government promised stern punishment of future offenders. Riots yesterday left nearly 100 persons injured. Police used tear gas and club to disperse about 2,000 college students.

Mrs. Roosevelt Pays Fine In Bomb Scare

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Minnewa Bell Roosevelt was fined $250 in absentia today for falsely reporting a bomb aboard an airplane.

Mrs. Roosevelt, 52, of Santa Barbara, is the former wife of Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president. She is a sister of Rep. Alphonzo E. Bell Jr. (R-Calif.).

The first hot dog eaten in the United States is believed to have been bought at Coney Island around 1871.

Dillon Beach Area Water Rates Hiked

About 140 residents of the Dillon Beach area, customers of the Coast Springs Water Co., will soon be paying 50 per cent more for their water.

The California Public Utilities Commission yesterday gave the company permission to raise the rates either on June 1 or within four days after new rate schedules are filed, whichever is later.

While the new prices will not be as high as those sought by the firm, annual service charge for a three-fourths by three-eighths inch meter will go from $36 to $54.

Quantity rates will go from 40 to 60 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 5,000 cubic feet, and from 30 to 45 cents per 100 cubic feet for any water over 5,000 cubic feet.

Coast Springs had asked permission to charge $5 more for the annual meter charge, and a nickel more for each 100 feet of water, than the rates approved by the commission.

Many of the customers involved are weekend or seasonal residents of the area, the commission said.

Owner of the firm, Lawrence R. Vanoni, said present rates have brought a return of 1.3 per cent on net investment. The new rates will permit a return of 6.75 per cent.

The commission observed in its decision that Vanoni had corrected an earlier problem of cloudiness in the water.

SCHOOL

tion and delay of the San Rafael High project were impossible.

George A. Yertson, principal of Terra Linda High School, told the board that he was having difficulty finding room for students right now with an enrollment of 1,700. Next year he expects an enrollment of about 2,100.

He declared that by 1967, the year when the gymnasium and added shops are now planned, the school will be "greatly inconvenienced."

There was a full house at last night's session. Many were parents waiting to see what action the board took on the construction priorities.

Mrs. Aaron declared the board had given the San Rafael High School job priority over the Terra Linda projects last fall when voters approved a 50-cent special tax for a construction fund. "I think we have an obligation to the voters," she declared.

Board Member John M. Bagshaw suggested at one point that the board could see from the architects' letter that the proposed change of priorities was not feasible.

"I can read as well as you can," Bettini snapped.

Board members appeared to find solution in a proposal to use portable classrooms to take care of shop at Terra Linda was the possibility that some students from Hamilton Air Force Base be retained at San Rafael High School. The board has been considering a shift of these students to Terra Linda to take the load off the San Rafael campus during construction of a library and 34 classrooms next year.

BUDGET

021 increase in payroll.

Current tax rate for the dist-

Current tax rate for the district excluding 15 cents for bond interest and retirement is $1.43 per $100 in assesseed valuation. This includes $1.25 for general purpose and 18 cents in over-rides. Among the over-ride taxes is 5 cents for fire and panic protection in "Old Main at San Rafael High School. Next year, it is proposed to drop this to three cents.

The proposal for next year would call for a total tax of $1.78½ per $100 assessed valuation, with $1.61 for general purpose and 17½ for over-rides.

Last fall, voters authorized a 50-cent increase in the general purpose tax. The proposed budget takes all but 14 cents of the voted increase, with 27 cents to go to building and nine cents to go toward increases in operating costs.

The board will discuss the budget when it meets at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the administration building at 215 Mission Avenue.

Business manager Charles L. Condrotte said tax figures in his preparations are not firm and will not be until after assessments are totaled and taxes set by the county.

Marin Team 5th In Bowl Tourney

Al's Liquors bowling team from Nave Lanes in Ignacio still is holding the fifth overall spot in the booster division of the American Bowling Congress tournament being held in Oakland.

The team—made up of Bud Nattress, Walt Moreno, Ray Noel, Jerry Smith and John Coen—was the first booster team to go over the 1,000 mark in one game last Wednesday when it scored 1,002 during the competition.

The team started off with an 826, then rolled a 945, and finished off with its fine 1,002 for a 2,773 total.

morning. The body was taken to Marin County Humane Society for disposal, and the head to the health department for testing.

The dog had been vaccinated for rabies but was re-vaccinated Saturday and is being isolated for two weeks as a precautionary measure.

BALLOT

ducted by the junior chamber. Of some 1,600 people surveyed, 75 per cent said they favored fluoridation of the water. A similar junior chamber survey in 1962 showed 66 per cent in favor.

A similar advisory election on fluoridation is scheduled June 2 by the Contra Costa County Water District. Voters in the city of Martinez last week approved fluoridation of the city water supply.

Jerome B. Gilbert, North Marin Water District manager, estimated cost of equipment to fluoridate the North Marin district's water supply at the Stafford Dam treatment plant and the metering station in Petaluma on the aqueduct carrying Russian River water would total $15,101. He estimated annual cost of the treatment at $6,783—or about 24 cents per person in the district.

"The board takes a neutral position in the question," said Arnold Heise, board chairman. He said directors want to "give the people of the district the opportunity to vote on the matter" and would be guided by the result.

This will be the first vote on fluoridation in the North Marin Water District, which covers the areas of Novato, San Jose and Burdell School Districts.

Voters in Marin Municipal Water District turned down fluoridation proposals twice in 1960. In the June primary elec- lost by only 84 votes—19,051 "no" to 18,067 "yes." Put on the ballot again the following November, it was defeated by 29,133 "no" to 21,879 "yes."

Lagunitas School Pay Talks Off

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District last night put off discussion of finances and hiring of additional personnel for next year until there is a full board.

Board chairman Glen E. Twitchell was absent.

The board authorized hiring Miss Patricia Becker as first grade teacher to replace Mrs. Virginia L. Furey who had to take maternity leave before completing the semester.

An expected report from the district's site selection committee was not given. Trustees were told, however, that the committee will meet at 8 p.m. at the school today.

An Education Job On Traffic Safety

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — In a stepped up drive against traffic accidents the Kansas Highway Patrol gave 393 safety programs in the state during January 1964.

Col. Larry Hughs, Highway Patrol superintendent, estimated that 65,000 persons attended the programs.

A native of Denmark, he came to the home from Hayward in 1962.

He was a former poultry rancher.

Surviving are two brothers, John Ottesen of North Seattle, Wash., and Hans Ottesen of Ribi, Denmark, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Katherine Ottesen of Oakland.

Balloon Dangler Danny Nowell Is Back In School

Danny Nowell, 11, who rode a balloon 3,000 feet up while dangling at the end of a rope, was back in Tamalpais Valley School today.

His father, retired Army officer Tom E. Nowell, said, "We brought him home from the hospital yesterday afternoon. He is a pretty sound kid."

Danny was one of several persons holding restraining ropes Saturday prior to a two-balloon ascension. Danny could-n't release the rope because he had wrapped it around his wrist. When the pilot became aware of his helpless passenger, he descended.

Danny's father said, "He won't be playing baseball or the trumpet for a while, but otherwise he's okay." The boy was treated at Letterman General Hospital for a badly-swollen left hand.

Visitors To U.S. Don't Like Noise

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a poll conducted by the U.S. Travel Service, overseas visitors to the United States listed the noise and litter of American cities when asked what they disliked most about the United States.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges revealed this information at the recent national conference of Keep America Beautiful, with the admonition: "If we're going to have company in, we've got to keep the place tidy."

DODGE CITY, Kan. (AP) — Jack Swartz was so enthused at being president of the Kansas Junior Chamber of Commerce that he named his new son Jay C. Swartz.

Diem's Brother Death Sentence

SAIGON (UPI)—A special revolutionary court today sentenced the younger brother of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem to death by the guillotine for crimes committed during his nine-year rule as "virtual war-lord" of Central Vietnam.

The court found Can guilty of three murders, the illegal arrest of 20 persons, extortion, illegal speculation and other activities which damaged the national economy. The 53-year-old Can had pleaded innocent to the charges, maintaining he was only a private citizen without any powers.

The prosecutor had demanded the death penalty not only because he said Can was guilty of the charges but also because he is a "symbol of an inhumane regime."

Teachers Make Pay-Hike Pitch

Teachers last night pressed the San Rafael Board of Education to act on salary increases requested six weeks ago, but Board Chairman C. Paul Bettini made it clear he was not ready to act.

Bettini, in fact, suggested the teachers were out of order, since salaries did not appear as an item on the agenda. Fellow board members, however, did not go so far, reminding Bettini that salaries, after all, related to the budgets, one of which was up for consideration last night.

"We're aware we have a salary problem," Bettini said after F. Ewing Bone, chairman of the salary committee of the San Rafael Teachers' Assn., made his pitch.

Bone said his committee recently voted to recommend that school district budgeting be done after a salary schedule is set, thus giving the salaries priority in budget preparation.

The proposed budget for the elementary school district discussed by board members last night does not include raises for teachers beyond the salary schedule now in effect.

Bone also urged that the board consider use of recent legislation which allows districts to levy an over-ride tax to cover extra cost of junior high school education.

It was when Bone started to introduce another teacher to back up the pitch that Bettini cut things short.

The board chairman declared that teachers salaries constitute 60 per cent of the proposed budget and are certainly a priority item.

During the discussion, Walter B. Belden, secretary of American Federation of Teachers Local 1077, rose to state briefly that his group thought Bone had erred on the side of modesty in his presentation.

Six weeks ago, teachers asked increases in the salary schedule that would add a total of $201,091 to next year's payroll. Of the increase, $111,021 would be in the high school district and $90,070 in the elementary school district.

Board members spent about an hour and a half going through the elementary district budget item by item. They made no cuts, but asked that Supt. Bert C. Corona meet with teachers and his staff before next Tuesday's meeting and present a revised proposal.

Corona estimated that it would take another $250,000 to put the district budget in proper balance. This would include bringing undistributed reserves up, salary increases for teachers, and a program for educationally handicapped.

Low Bidders Named On Scottsdale Work

Caxco Inc. of Stanton, Orange County, submitted a low bid of $923,466 to construct streets, sewers, storm drains, underground utilities and water mains for the Scottsdale Assessment District in Novato yesterday.

Two of the five bids opened at the Novato city administrator's office yesterday were below the $993,213 estimate by Carlos E. Gonzalez, engineer of the project.

Below estimate were Caxco and McGuire and Hester of Oakland with a bid of $988,449. Other bids were: Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, $1,025,058; Syar and Harms of Vallejo, $1,150,136, and Merz Brothers of San Rafael, $1,151,918.

The district covers 91 acres south of Yukon Way and east of South Novato Boulevard where 1,500 apartments are scheduled to be developed by Harry Heifetz.

Dixie Trustees Due Pay Request

Trustees of the Dixie School District tonight will consider a request by the Dixie Teachers' Assn. for a change in the salary schedule allowing a top pay for teachers of $10,000 a year.

The proposed change would also allow the top salary to be reached in 11 steps, rather than in 12 as at present. The change would increase costs in the 1964-65 fiscal year by about $14,000.

The board meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the district office, 35 Trellis Road, San Rafael.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will ask authority to contract for 14 new teachers for next year and to hire two foreign language instructors.

Shakespeare Contest Set

Tamalpais High School students will present three to five minute excerpts from Shakespeare's works in the school's third annual Shakespeare contest at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Ruby Scott Auditorium.

Students will also present musical selections, vocal and instrumental, using music typical of that of Shakespeare's time.

Trophies will be awarded to winners. Mrs. Nancy White heads the team of five judges for the Shakespearean works, and Craig Vezie, William Spaulding and Tod Fleming are music judges.

Tam Unified Candidate Quits Race

Mrs. Edmond Gross of Mill Valley today said she will withdraw as a candidate for trustee of the proposed Tamalpais Unified School District. The proposal is to be voted upon in the June 2 election.

"At the time I filed for this post," said Mrs. Gross, "I was not certain there were other qualified candidates seriously running for this important office. When I learned that Mrs. Gloria Melbostad of Mill Valley was also a candidate, I reconsidered by own decision.

"I believe that Mrs. Melbostad is eminently qualified to serve the new unified district. She has a thorough knowledge of school problems and she has been an ardent supporter of the unification program."

Mrs. Gross, now serving in her third year as trustee of Mill Valley School District, lives at 1 Roosevelt Avenue with her husband, a commercial artist, and three children.

Chemical Magic Show, Band Concert Set

A chemical magic show and band concert are scheduled for tomorrow's open house at Redwood High School.

Programs in classrooms will be held between 7:30 and 9 p.m., when the school's band and the choir will give a concert in the boys' gymnasium.

A chemistry magic show will be given by chemistry teacher John Givson and his students. There will also be demonstrations of cloud chamber ballistics and the Geiger counter.

There will be a debate on the proposal for a state lottery. Journalism students will explain how the school's newspaper, the Redwood Bark, is put to press.

"The Haunted House," a play by T. Maccius Plantus, which has been translated into English by third and fourth-year Latin classes, will be staged by drama classes in the little theater.

Frogs and rats will be dissected in biology classes and discussions of literary selections in English classes.

Formation Commission Due Sewer, Boundaries Problems

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission will meet at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow to discuss sewers for Los Ranchitos and boundaries for Larkspur and Corte Madera.

The Twin Cities problem was complicated at the last meeting of the commission when Mrs. Ann H. McCorry, speaking for residents of the Greenbrae Boardwalk, said they wished to be in neither city.

The boardwalk is a small island of unincorporated territory between the two cities The county staff is now studying a proposal for a new boundary between Larkspur and Corte Madera to eliminate such islands.

The Los Ranchitos matter was raised by the request for annexation to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District of property on Los Ranchitos Road owned by the Catholic Church for use as offices for the Catholic Social Service Agency. Commissioner Byron W. Leydecker asked whether all property in the area might be annexed and put on sewers at the same time. The staff was ordered to prepare a report.

The old-fashioned remedy for "spring fevor" is two ounces of sulphur, two ounces of molasses, mixed.

Plumbing Code Bid Hearing Set Monday

The Cooper Development Assn., with headquarters in Torrance, wants Marin County to relax a section of the plumbing code to allow three-inch waste and vent pipes instead of the required four-inch pipes.

At the request of Roderic T. Antrim, representing the association, the Marin County Board of Appeals has set a hearing for 2 p.m. next Monday in room 413 of the Marin County Civic Center.

Three Marin Students Honored At College

Three Marin County students at San Francisco State College will receive recognition for outstanding achievement at the college's annual honors covocation next Tuesday.

The Marinites are John Cuthbert of 48 Rafael Drive, San Rafael, who is majoring in physical education; Robert Dwyer of 507 Las Colindas Road, San Rafael, a philosophy major, and Harriette Woodbury of 9 Olive Street, Mill Valley, an education major.

DAVIDSON READING SHELTER

Architects Gromme and Priestley of San Rafael have designed a fenced-in reading area inside a court yard at the east end of the proposed library at Davidson Junior High School. The San Rafael Board of Education last night told the architects to go ahead with plans for the library, six new classrooms and a class for mentally retarded at Davidson. Total cost of the project, to be paid from recently authorized bonds, is estimated at $261,000.

Van Vliet Is New Mayor Of Fairfax

Printer Cornelis Van Vliet was chosen mayor of Fairfax last night.

Van Vliet, 61, will succeed W. E. Radtke, who retired from the council after being a member for four years and mayor for two.

As Radtke and Stanley R. Wilsey, who was defeated in last week's election, stepped down from the stage at the Fairfax Women's Club building, new Councilmen Peter R. Arrigoni and George A. Pagni were sworn in and took their seats.

In the shuffle, Van Vliet seated himself at the mayor's chair. Moments later, it was voted his by unanimous vote of his three colleagues present.

Councilman Frank L. Lawrence, who was absent, was chosen vice mayor, also unanimously.

Van Vliet, who lives at 1620 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, owns Vliet and Co. Printers. Born in the Netherlands, he came to California in 1924 and has been a Fairfax resident for 11 years. He was elected to the council in 1962.

Immediately after his selection as mayor, Van Vliet picked up a slip of paper and began to read his appointments. He named Lawrence as fire commissioner and park and recreation commissioner, Councilman Freeman Blake as police commissioner, Pagni as planning commission liason, and Arrigoni as street commissioner.

The new mayor also appointed Arrigoni's brother, Robert Arrigoni, to replace Pagni on the planning commission.

Van Vliet named himself finance commissioner.

Also sworn in at the session were City Clerk Alice Leonesio and Treasurer Dorothy McGlothin, both re-elected last week.

Before disbanding, the old council certified final voting tallies given Mrs. Leonesio. They were:

Arrigoni 1,000, Pagni 465, A. Nelson Camas 377, Wilsey, 363, Frank J. Egger 264, Dwayne E. Dibley 74.

Mrs. Leonesio got 1,117 votes and Mrs. McGlothin 1,067 votes in the final tally. A measure to make the treasurer appointive was defeated 827 to 394.

TV Antenna Service Contract Is Signed

The Fairfax City Council last night authorized signing a contract with Clear View Cable Systems, Inc., to provide master television antenna service to residents of the city.

Councilmen also adopted an ordinance permitting them to give the franchise, previously withdrawn from Bob's TV and Sound of San Rafael, to the firm.

It was the last official act of the council before two of its members, Mayor W. E. Radtke and Councilman Stanley R. Wilsey, gave way to new Councilmen Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and George A. Pagni.

One condition of the contract with Clear View requires that the firm post an $11,000 bond to cover any damages which a court might order the city to pay to Robert Lewis, the previous franchise holder.

While the bond had not yet been posted last night, City Atty. Wallace S. Myers said the contract would not become effective until this was done.

Accused Murderess Fires Her Attorney

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Accused murderess Mrs. Jean Marie Toman fired her defense attorney yesterday during a brief court appearance—during which the dismissed lawyer said he thinks the woman is capable of "co-operating in her defense."

Mrs. Toman, 36-year-old former apartment house landlady charged with murdering Elinor Kahn last Feb. 9 and dismembering the body, was rescheduled to enter a plea today.

Brixon Takes On Mayor Job In Larkspur

Councilman Neil R. Brixon was elected Mayor of Larkspur for a one-year term last night at a 20-minute meeting of the council.

Brixon was vice mayor. Taking over that position is Councilman Robert J. Smith.

Both were elected unanimously.

Outgoing Mayor Lesly A. Daveler, calling the meeting to order, said, "I want to get one small comment off my chest. This is the night the old gray mayor retires."

After Councilmen Vaughn Marker, Earl J. O'Grady and Henry Brocco were sworn in, Daveler stepped down from the mayor's chair and joined former Mayor and Councilman Daniel Allen in the audience.

Outgoing Councilman James J. Lienkaemper was absent from the meeting.

Bread Knife Stab Charge Dropped

An assault with a deadly weapon charge against Mrs. Madoline Ann Mason, 24, was dismissed in Marin Superior Court yesterday on recommendation of the district attorney's office.

Mrs. Mason was accused of stabbing her husband, William Roger Mason, 40, in the chest with a bread knife March 14 in their home behind the Forest Knolls Post Office.

District attorney's office said reason for dismissal was the husband declined to testify against Mrs. Mason.

FAIRFAX COUNCIL SETS MEETING ON ISSUE OF BUILDING BONDS

A study session with an informal "citizens' committee for a bond issue" has been scheduled by the Fairfax City Council for 7:30 p.m. May 18 in the old council chambers at city hall.

The council has been discussing placing a bond issue on the November ballot for construction of new city buildings or renovation of the present one.

New Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet said last night six citizens had indicated they wish to serve on such a committee.

Lack Of Assistant Schools Head Puzzles The Board

C. Paul Bettini, chairman of the San Rafael Board of Education, wondered last night why the district has been unable to find an assistant superintendent for the elementary school district in 11 months.

The district has been without an assistant superintendent since the departure last May of Dr. Mildred Barnard, who took a job at Oakland State College.

"I think this has been continuing for an awfully long time," Bettini said.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said the committee appointed to interview candidates is seeking a person who will be "dynamic" and bring "new life, spirit and challenge" to the district.

"Maybe we should lower the standards and hire someone," said Bettini.

The board several weeks ago offered the job to one well-qualified man, but he turned the job down, evidently after receiving a better offer.

Board Member Walter J. Doll, who serves on the interviewing committee, assured Bettini the standards are not too high and should not be lowered.

The San Rafael Board of Education last night also:

1. Heard a presentation from architects Falk and Booth, one of four firms being considered to design new schools and additions for the elementary district's building program.
2. Approved interdistrict attendance agreements with the Tamalpais High School District which will allow Thomas E. Bronson, John Hotchkiss and Joseph Montero to continue at Terra Linda High School, even though their families now live outside the San Rafael High School District.
3. Heard a request from Daryl Hopkins, director of special education for the Marin County Schools office, that the board consider building four classrooms at Davidson Junior High School for teaching deaf children.

Ruddock Elected Mayor In Split Belvedere Vote

Belvedere elected Merritt K. Ruddock mayor last night by a vote of 3-2 over John R. Moore.

Ruddock had been seated at the council table, along with Edwin J. Drechsel and Thomas S. Price, after a canvass of votes, joining holdovers Moore and Mrs. Sally Mathews.

City Mgr. Britton Rey ceremoniously slit a sheet of yellow, lined legal paper into five pieces with his pen knife. The five councilmen's votes were tossed into the handy drip top of a coffee maker and Eleanor Watkins, daughter of retiring Mayor Robert P. Watkins, pulled out the ballots.

Ruddock, the newly-elected mayor, took the central seat promptly and asked for a ballot on vice mayor.

"You can use the back of those same ballots in the interest of city economy," said Rey.

And so they did, with City Atty. William H. MacKay tallying the next ballots (other side) which elected Mrs. Mathews as vice mayor.

MacKay notified the council that it is not legal to combine the offices of city clerk and city treasurer. The council moved to maintain the present incumbents, Mr. and Mrs. Rey, in these offices until July 1.

A finance committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Mathews, Price and Rey, and a city manager selection committee, composed of Moore, Price and Rey.

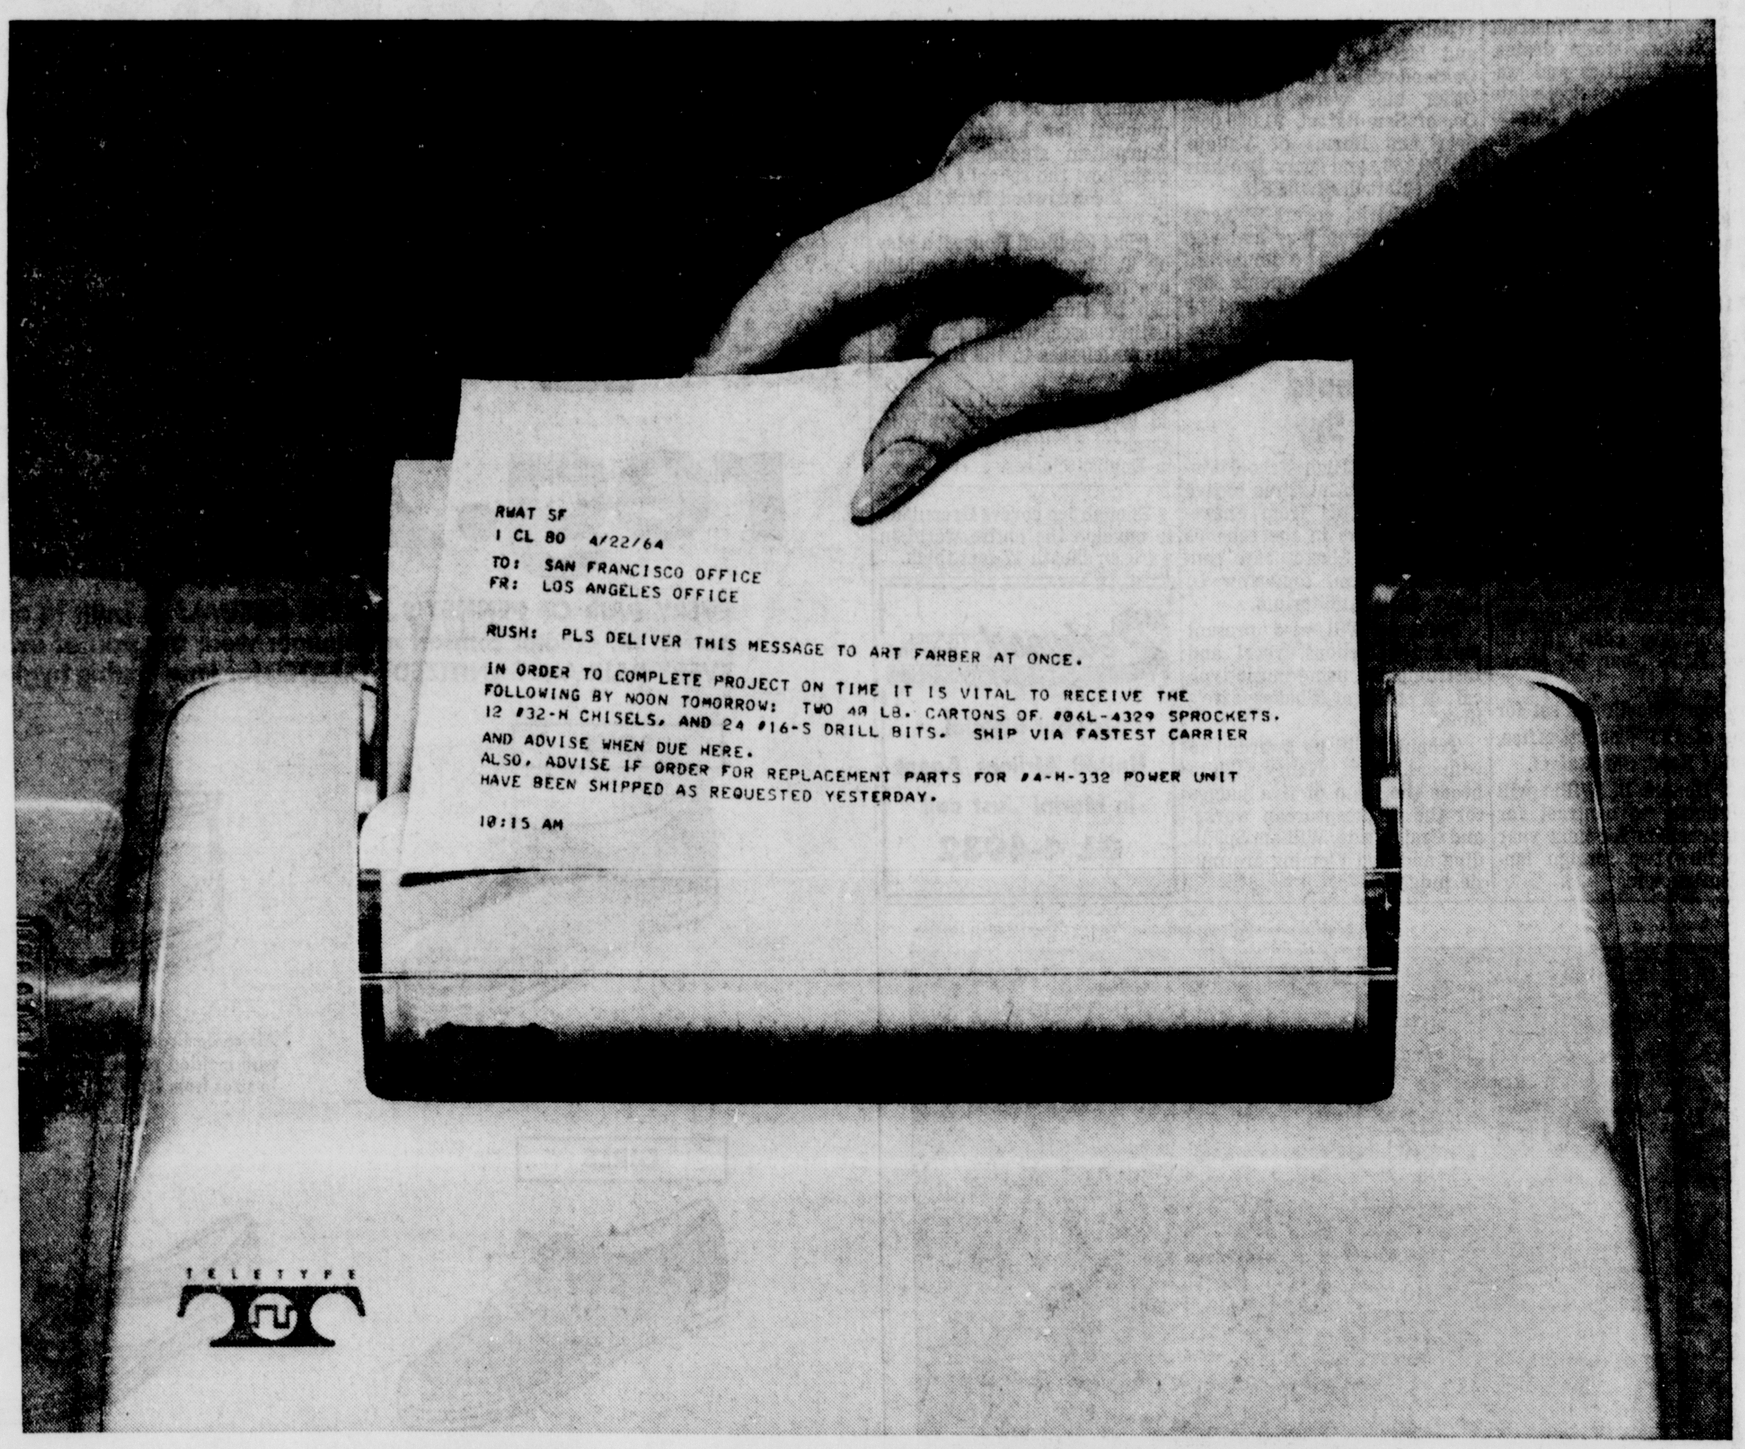

MacKay also told the council that the superior court had found in favor of Belvedere in the Corinthian Island zoning case of the Charles T. Mishkinds, but that an appeal would probably be made.

Earlier Watkins gave a short farewell speech extending personal thanks to Rey and saying Belvedere has spent half a million dollars for a sewer system while he has been mayor and almost $50,000 for additional fire protection. Watkins said there is still great need for better west side fire protection and Cove Road flood control.

As to Tiburon incorporation, "We have wished to needle Tiburon into incorporation. Will Tiburon become a good residential community, an anchorage for the bridge, or a Coney Island? The quicker Tiburon is incorporated the better. If incorporation fails, let's annex what we can."

The council adjourned to a closed session to discuss hiring a new city manager to replace Rey. Applications for this position will be accepted until May 1, according to Mrs. Mathews.

Franchini Named Mayor 2nd Time

William F. Fhranchini, 50, proprietor of the Home Market meat department, was chosen mayor of San Anselmo last night to succeed Arthur W. Smith.

Franchini has been on the citly council for six years and previouslly served as mayor in 1960. Re-elected vice mayor was Councilman Woodrow Capurro.

Councilman Cedric Clute nominated Franchini for mayor. Capurro seconded the motion, and the vote was unanimous. Smith then nominated Capurro for vice mayor, with a second by Clute. This, too was a unanimous vote.

In San Anselmo, the mayor is normally chosen in rotation. Mayor Franchini said Capurro was in line for the presiding post, but he did not want to take the mayor's job.

The election followed a brief swearing-in ceremony for officials elected on April 14. All incumbents were re-elected, and there is no change in the city council makeup.

San Anselmo Council Bars Apartment Plans

San Anselmo City Council cil last night turned down two requests for apartment zoning in one-family residential areas by 4 to 1 votes.

The lone dissenter was Councilman Cedric E. Clute, a real estate salesman. The four other councilmen voted against the apartments on grounds they would be spot zoning.

A delegation of homeowners packed the council chambers to protest apartment zoning requests by Harold Truett at 130 Sycamore Avenue and Paul Mendolsohn at 77 Tamalpais Avenue, corder of Cedar Avenue .

Planning commissioners had recommended approving the Truett rezoning by a 4 to 2 vote. On the Mendelsohn rezoning, the planning commission had split 3 to 3.

Charles R. Leitzell, representing the planning commission, explained the master plan designates the Sycamore Avenue area for medium density residential, which means apartments.

Apartment zoning for 130 Sycamore, however, would leave four or five one-family homes between it and the Creek Apartments.

"I don't understand it," said Mayor William F. Franchini. "Why are we skipping over?"

Councilman John M. Reichmuth said most citizens in San Anselmo live in one-family homes and "they like it that way." "We should avoid changing into an apartment town," he added.

" definitely think this is spot zoning," said Councilman Arthur W. Smith.

Councilman Clute said he is in favor of apartment zoning on the two lots because they are in areas designated for apartments under the city master plan.

Reichmuth said the master plan is only a guide and parts of it "may have to be tossed out" after a careful re-examination.

A dozen residents got up to protest apartment zoning, then applauded when the city fathers turned down the requests.

Architect Hired To Draw San Anselmo Park Plan

Landscape architect William L. Kapranos will draw a master plan for development of San Anselmo's Memorial Park behind Isabel Cook School for a fee not to exceed $500.

The San Anselmo City Council hired Kapranos last night. San Rafael landscape architect Henry Cole also made a bid for the job. On motion by Councilman Cedric Clute, Kapranos was hired because he lives in San Anselmo and has done other jobs for the city.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Approved posting "Drive Slowly" signs on Redwood Road, where residents have complained of speeding. Councilman John M. Reichmuth also suggested that residents turn in license numbers of speed violators to the police department.

2. Approved a blasting permit for Delmay Investments Inc. of San Rafael to shatter a huge rock at the entrance to unit 2 of Indian Rock Subdivision off The Alameda.

3. Postponed until next Tuesday decision on whether one per cent or two per cent fee should be charged Delmay Investments for administrative costs of processing bonds for the subdivision. Delmay is setting up an assessment district on its new Indian Rock subdivision.

4. Granted Nolan Construction Co. a driveway variance for a home on Allyn Avenue near Bridge Way.

5. Approved a curb opening for cars to enter the showroom at San Anselmo Auto Sales at the Hub intersection.

6. Approved the new traffic signals installed at Barber Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Total cost was $2,740.

7. Set June 1 as the deadline for citizens to clear their properties of grass and weeds that would constitute fire hazards.

8. Put off until next week an "impasse" that has developed over a 30-inch pipe installed in a drainage ditch at 439 The Alameda. Mill Valley builder Harry H. Johnson, who is putting in two homes there, installed the pipe to replace the open ditch. A neighbor complained that the pipe is inadequate and wants Johnson to remove it.

30 Suggested To Serve On College Foundation

A list of 30 persons proposed as members of a College of Marin foundation was presented to a citizens committee studying formation of the foundation last night.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy of the Marin Junior College District board and Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond will go over the list and submit nominations for the 15-member foundation board at the next committee meeting May 12.

Articles of incorporation and by-laws were presented by attorney Aaron Rucker of Kentfield.

Purpose of the foundation, as spelled out in the articles, is to provide scholarships and grants for residents of Marin County and art endowments, research and other education grants.

Board Puts Off Sewer Plan Bid

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors last night said they cannot consider sewer plans for 150 apartments proposed by Milland Development Co. of San Francisco on Strawberry Point without considering sewer plans for the adjoining proposed development by Eichler Homes.

The request came to the board from engineer Ray Foreaker, representing Milland. No action was taken, Kurtis Webb, board president, saying existing lines cannot handle the entire proposed development.

The board accepted the sewer line of Mar View subdivision, between Hawthorne Terrace and Del Mar, and set for May 5 at 8 p.m. an adjourned meeting to discuss a complete set of new ordinances.

Property Tax Payments Slower, Fontez Reports

Property tax payments have been coming in a little slower this year than last, according to the county treasurer-tax collector's office. A total of $27,718,884.66 has been collected for the 1963-64 fiscal year, out of a total charge of $29,292,127.28, Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez reported today.

This figure indicates a delinquency rate of 5.4 per cent, but not all on-time payments have yet been processed, and the delinquency rate is expected to drop to slightly less than 5 per cent.

Last year at this time, collections were $24,796,885.13 out of at total charge of $25,836,422.12, for a 4.1 per cent deficiency.

Deadline for payment of property tax this year was April 10.

Small Fire Put Out In Women's Cell

A small fire in a mattress, believed started by lighted cigarette or match, was reported Monday night in a Marin County Jail women's cell.

Corriene F. Keegan, jail matron, said she smelled smoke about 10 p.m. and found the mattress burning, but the three cell occupants denied knowledge of how the flames started.

The first transatlantic cable was laid in 1858 for Overseason Telegraph Service.

Public Works Office Urged In San Anselmo

San Anselmo City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt proposed last night that a small office be built in the parking lot behind the city hall to house the public works department.

He estimated the cost of materials would be $2,000, not including labor. "We feel the city forces can do most of the work except the brick laying," said Flautt.

The administrator said city offices are overcrowded, and Public Works Director Arnold R. Sypher needs space badly.

"You can sit back and brace yourself," said Councilman Woodrow Capurro. He gave these three objections to the plan:

1. Parking space behind the city hall is already too small.

2. This was the first time he had seen the plan. Flautt should let the councilmen know before he draws up such detailed plans.

3. If the engineering office is to relocate, the city corporation yard might be the best spot because there is plenty of space.

Mayor William F. Franchini put the matter over for future discussion.

The pedestal of the Statue of Liberty contains silver coins put there by workmen when they constructed the base in 1886.

Aides Named For Salinger

Harold Morgan of San Rafael, Robert D. Carrow of Novato, and Robert L. Harmon of Belvedere will be Marin County co-chairmen of Pierre Salinger's campaign for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate.

The appointments were announced today by Joseph Eichler, Northern California campaign manager for Salinger.

Morgan, a businessman, is a member of the County Democratic Central Committee and the California Democratic Council. Carrow, an attorney, is a member of the State Central Committee. Harmon, also an attorney, is a member of the California Democratic Council and the County Democratic Central Committee.

Marin Study Goof Will Cost $750

Somebody goofed on the Richardson Bay engineering study on proposed bulkhead lines. The mistake will cost Marin county $750 and some time.

A letter from Lee and Praszker, consulting engineers hired to determine a line for a new shore if and when the bay is dredged for widening of the Saucelito Chanel, reported yesterday that maps from the county contained no indication about dredging to be done off the Marinship area and to the south.

This will mean drawing a new line for the bulkheads, the letter said, and the computations will cost $1,500.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost told the board of supervisors that, indeed, the county maps were incomplete, but said written job specifications were quite clear about the area of study.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr agreed said he would rather see more money given to the engineers than to have the project tied up in a lawsuit. He said owners of property along the shore had agreed to pay half the cost of the extra engineering work. The board approved a $750 appropriation to cover the rest of the cost.

2 Men Fined For Drunken Driving

Two San Francisco men were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Donald Lavan Bittner, 37, was fined $166 on his plea of nolo contendere. He was arrested Jan. 19 on Tiburon Boulevard by California Highway Patrol.

Ignatius George Miano, 24, was fined $166. He was arrested April 5 in Sausalito by the patrol.

$18,000 PENSION INCREASE APPROVED

Fontez Believes Hike Can Come From County Reserves; Alternate Is Offered

A change in the county retirement program, expected to cost about $18,000 the first year, was approved yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to take care of employees retired before the program was changed radically last fall.

County treasurer Stanley J. Fontez, speaking for the county retirement board, said the entire cost of the new program may be paid from retirement fund reserves, although he was not sure. The first year's costs could easily be paid, however, he said.

Two plans were approved for retired employees who left county service too soon to be included in the "fixed formula" plan adopted last year and made effective Oct. 1.

One plan provides a flat monthly increase in the pension, not to exceed $40 a month, and based on the time of retiring and the number of years worked for the county. This plan has no effect, however, on persons retiring after June 30, 1960.

The second plan recomputes benefits under the new fixed formula. The retired person has a choice of which plan to chose.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said he wished steps could be taken to aid persons who had retired since 1960. Fontez said state legislation would be necessary for that.

The supervisors held up action for a week on the proposal by the health department that all new construction be stopped in the Tamalpais Woods subdivision until sewers are installed. Supervisor Peter H. Behr objected to blanketing in owners of large parcels where septic tanks could be safely installed.

Behr said he felt the proposal was an attempt to force people to sign an assessment district petition to bring in sewers.

The board approved paying half the cost of a $4,400 study of flood control work needs on Novato Creek downstream from the proposed Scottsdale subdivision, with developer, Harry Heifitz to pay the other half.

After hearing complaints about slow response on calls from Bolinas to check possible zoning violations, Behr asked for a study of keeping logs of complaints, similar to those kept by police agencies. He said then responsibility for action and scheduling would be certain.

Supervisor George H. Ludy said he hoped zoning enforcement action would quicker next fiscal year because of expected increases in the county planning and building inspection staffs.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Referred to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, for report next Tuesday, a complaint by the Soroptimist Club about relocation of its booth at the Marin Art and Garden Fair. Supervisors questioned whether they had any jurisdiction in such matters.

2. Voted to inform Marin Hospital District that the county would be willing to take over operation of the minifilm X-Ray service soon after July 1, after space has been prepared at the health department building in San Rafael.

3. Approved a three-year contract with the United States government for county care of federal prisoners, when necessary, for $3.50 a day.

4. Received a report from Maloney that present policy on claims against the county is to refer them to the county insurance carrier immediately upon receipt.

5. Continued to the budget agenda a request by Frances Peri for an increase from $100 to $115 per month in rent for the Fairfax brand library.

6. Approved a contract with the City of San Rafael for animal control services.

7. Heard a proposal by Richard Pisani, a commercial printer, for an "official" directory showing boundaries of political jurisdiction in Marin and giving phone numbers to call for services, but said the board could not officially endorse such a project.

8. Received letters from Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) asking for quick action on an access road to Point Reyes National Seashore. Clausen sent a copy of a letter to Seashore Supt. Fred W. Binnewies asking rescheduling of projects so the road could be built earlier than planned.

9. Accepted a deed from Frederick G. Zelinsky for right of way for relocation of Mar West Street, Tiburon, and heard that bids on the job will be called next week.

10. Approved payment of $450 to Lewis M. Whitney for an easement over .011 acres and $1,000 to Allan Ross for easement over .018 acre in the Coyote Creek widening project.

11. Approved closing of Main Street, Tiburon, May 23 and 24 for the Tiburon Art Festival and concours d'elegance.

12. Approved a use permit for construction by William Marshall of a motel with 11 units and a manager's unit, on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard next to the Golden Hine Boatel, Inverness.

13. Appointed Sharon L. Rowland as key punch operator, data processing; James E. Thompson, deputy probation officer; Sandra Gilbert, group counsellor, Juvenile Hall; Wayne R. Trumbly, fire warden and John Martens, building inspector.

14. Approved transfer and appointment of Ernest C. Zunino from probation department to deputy district attorney.

Science Winners Announced

Diane Wofford and Susan Reed have been named grand prize winners in the Neil Cummins School science fair for eighth-graders. The exhibit is the culmination of projects for this school year.

Their exhibit showed the soil types found in Marin County and how the growth of plants is affected by the soils. Diane is a daughter of Mrs. Betty Herron of 49 Staghound Passage and Susan is a daughter of Mrs. Virginia Reed of 25 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera.

Winners in biological science exhibits were Barbara Barkovich, first, Karen Vogel, second, and Pam Doherty and Bonnie Kirkwood, third.

Winners in the physical science category were Bob Little, first; Dale Friend, second, and Alex Sill, third.

Dominican Girls To Exhibit Art

Exhibits of art works of two Dominican College seniors and a teacher at St. Raphael's School will open Friday at the college's San Marco Art Building.

It will be the first showing for Elizabeth Devereau, Barbara McCune and Sister Mary Bernard, O.P., and will include oils, woodcuts, pencil and ink sketches and other media.

The show, which will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., is scheduled to run through May 6.

MENTAL HEALTH WEEK SET FOR MILL VALLEY

Michael Wornum issued his proclamation as mayor of Mill Valley last night, his first night in the office.

At request of Mayor Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera, Wornum proclaimed the week of April 26 as Mental Health Week in Mill Valley.

He added his own touch, however, saying: "I hereby proclaim Mental Health Week. Let those that need it partake thereof."

Wornum Elected New Mayor By Mill Valley Councilmen

Michael Wornum, only Mill Valley city councilman to win re-election last week, is the city's new mayor.

Wornum was given the mayoralty by unanimous vote of his fellow councilmen last night, immediately after he and new Councilmen George E. Wickham and Albert E. White took the oath of office for four-year terms.

Likewise unanimous was selection of William Secor, holdover councilman, as vice mayor.

Wornum succeeds Joseph E. Sheeks, also a holdover member, as mayor. Secor succeeds George D. Monardo, who was defeated for re-election.

The new mayor appointed Secor as the council's liaison to the Northern California Division, League of California Cities, and the Assn. of Bay Area Governments; White as liaison to the planning commission—from which his wife, Maxine, resigned yesterday; Wickham as liaison to the parks and recreation commission, and Sheeks as liaison to the library commission.

The selection of mayor and vice mayor and appointments to the liaison jobs went off without a hitch, having been agreed upon at a meeting of the new and holdover council members at Sheeks' home on Saturday. (Technically, this was not a meeting of the city council, since two of those participating were not yet in office.)

Asked about the Saturday meeting after last night's session, Wornum said it had been held to avoid any open conflict at the first meeting of the new council. "It is not establishing any precedent," he said. "From here on, all the business of the council will be done in open meeting. We're starting with a clean page, and we've learned our lesson." (Closed meetings of the former council at various locations in Mill Valley and San Francisco figured in the election campaign.)

In a farewell speech as mayor, Sheeks said that during the campaign, "many people were . . . as I was, disturbed this by a display of malevolence, of out-and-out hatred." He said this demonstrated that "there is all the hatred and all the bitterness in this community that there is in Dallas or Birmingham—it is only directed at a different sort of people." He decried the existence of such feeling.

Wornum, in a speech on accepting the mayoralty, also referred to the campaign, and the large voter turnout (61.7 per cent of those registered).

"Such intense interest is good," he said. "The evils of democracy are when people are not interested in it . . . A certain amount of bitterness has resulted. I think this has died down."

Wornum expressed hope the Citizens for Good Government, which campaigned against him and Monardo, will remain in existence. "I think a group like this performs an invaluable service," he said. "Give us a chance; we'll work with them and they can work with us."

Sheeks presented certificates, letters of appreciation, and humorous gifts to outgoing Councilmen Monardo and George Blackwell (who served two terms and did not run for a third). Monardo, arch foe of apartments in Mill Valley, received an "Apartment to Let" sign; Blackwell, who has been the council's sewer expert, an umbrella stand made of a piece of sewer pipe.

The council presented Sheeks with a silver serving tray.

Official canvass of the election returns showed Wickham received 1,822 votes; Wornum, 1,705; White, 1,473; John Finn III, 1,287; Monardo, 1,125; Holbrook T. Mitchell, 733; Dr. Robert F. Palmer, 731, and Philip J. Planert, 243.

Project 17 Revised Plan Is Approved

A revised plan for Mill Valley's Project 17 won unanimous city approval last night.

The plan, by planning consultant John D. Erickson, calls for grouping buildings around a square. On one side would be the teen center—already in place. On a second side would be a covered bicycle rack; on a third, a meeting hall with attached arts and crafts center, which could also be used for a little theater; on the fourth, a building for seniors.

FAST MEETING

Plantings and walkways would separate the buildings from the baseball field and parking areas.

The reorganized Mill Valley council whipped through its first meeting with dispatch and without discord.

Four ordinances were unanimously voted final passage. One rezones the northwest corner of Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue, with one parcel being made single-family dwelling and two others commercial. A second rezones Cascade and Old Mill Parks as open area. A third amends the parks and recreation commission ordinance to put its budget under control of the city manager. The fourth sets a 25-mile speed limit on the portion of Miller Avenue that has been a 35-mile zone.

NEW ORDINANCE

Introduced last night was an ordinance giving the city manclerk and treasurer, which formerly was vested in the council.

As interim treasurer until the new ordinance takes effect, the council appointed Thomas Bencke, city finance officer. The term of William D. Rutherford, Mill Valley's last elected treasurer, expired last night. Bencke's appointment was recommended by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Approved the final map of a portion of Scott Highlands Unit 2, and referred to the planning commission, at suggestion of Mayor Michael Wornum, the request by Marin Capital Co. for a year's extension from the June 5 deadline for filing a final map on the remainder of the subdivision.
2. Accepted the resignation from the planning commission of Mrs. Maxine White, wife of new City Councilman Albert E. White. This creates two vacancies on the commission. Wornum said no appointment will be made until the commission submits some recommended names.

GOP Groups Plan Meeting

Representatives of various Republican volunteer groups in Marin will meet with Chairman Gerald E. Misner of the Republican Central Committee tomorrow at 7 p.m. at Nero's Restaurant, Ignacio.

Misner has invited the presidents and three members of each volunteer group to a no-host dinner at the restaurant. Groups invited are the Marin Republican Council, Marin Republican Alliance, three Republican women's federations, Young Republicans, and five chapters of the California Republican Assembly.

"We want to get together to find out just what each group is trying to accomplish," said Misner.

There are approximately 1,750,000 freight cars, 57,000 passenger cars and coaches, and about 44,000 locomotives in use by American railroads today.

Colthurst Re-Elected Corte Madera Mayor

Edward W. Colthurst was re-elected last night to his second consecutive term as mayor of Corte Madera by unanimous vote.

However, Councilman Charles F. Pendleton objected, saying there were others on the council, including himself, who had worked hard and served ably.

Pendleton said he was disappointed that he had not been considered for mayor but would vote for Colthurst. Penleton was then elected vice mayor.

Colthurst has served three years as mayor.

Allen Is Unanimously Elected Mayor Of Ross

Frederick S. Allen, vice president or Pacific Coast Title Co. in San Rafael, was unanimously elected mayor of Ross last night at a reorganization meeting of the town council.

Allen succeeded Harry C. Scott, who was elected vice mayor.

Allen was appointed to the council in October, 1960, to fill the vacancy created by resignation of James McNab, and was elected to a four-year term in 1962.

William Peter McAndrew, newly elected last week, was sworn in as a new member of the council. McAndrew fills the seat of former councilman Russel G. Smith, who did not seek re-election.

Car Radio Stolen

Florence Selma Pearson of 334 Bayview Street, San Rafael, reported to San Rafael police today that someone stole her car radio from her unlocked car while it was parked in front of her home between 2:45 a.m. yesterday and 6:10 a.m. today. The radio was valued at $30.

Belvedere Rec To Show Film

"Tonka," a Walt Disney movie starring Sal Mineo, will be presented by the Belvedere Recreation Department at 8 p.m. Friday in the community hall.

A 15-minute travel film will precede the feature, the first of a series of teen-age programs planned by Donald Eager, newly hired Belvedere recreation director. There will be a small admission charge, said Charles E. Auerbach, recreation commission chairman.

Prior to the movies, Eager will meet with teen-agers to discuss forming a teen club.

Carrow Is Elected Mayor Of Novato

Robert D. Carrow was elected mayor of Novato last night by a four-man city council after new Councilmen William Jack Adams and J. Wayne Womack were sworn into office.

Adams was named vice mayor.

Douglas M. Merrill, the other new councilman, was in Australia and could not be sworn into office.

Mrs. Lucile Cannon moved that Carrow be named mayor, also nominated Adams for vice mayor. Both votes were unanimous.

In accepting the mayor's seat, Carrow said that he felt a mayor should be chosen each year. "On a council such as this where terms are for four years, the office of mayor should be reaffirmed or a new mayor elected each year to give all councilmen a chance at it," he said.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget presented outgoing Mayor M. E. Babe Silva with a certificate of appreciation and a plaque. Outgoing Councilmen John J. Angeloni and Everett Pozzi were not present.

The crowd that packed council chambers gave Silva a standing ovation when he left office.

In his closing remarks, Silva said: "Angry at anybody? No! Disappointed? Naturally." He said he had enjoyed his four years on the council and wished the new council "all the luck in the world." He told Carrow the city is "in excellent financial shape."

Womack, who served on the council during Novato's first two years, said it was "good to be back."

Adams said the vote April 14 indicated the people demanded that the council "move forward at the fastest possible pace."

Womack was named as the council's choice to replace Silva on the Marin County Local Agencies Formation Commission.

The council set for 8 p.m., May 5, a work session in which the department heads would report on their department's work. The council will hold a regular meeting at 8 p.m., next Tuesday.

Group Meets On Mental Health Drive

Final planning for the 1964 Bell Ringer Campaign for Mental Health got underway yesterday as three separate groups met to map strategy.

The campaign begins Sunday and runs through May 18.

Goal for the drive, according to the Marin Association for Mental Health, is $20,000.

Meeting yesterday were a volunteer committee, chairmen of the May 18 Bell Ringers March, and a business, professional and labor steering committee.

Volunteers, headed by Mrs. Dan Dougherty, will staff the headquarters office at 1005 A Street, San Rafael, during the drive.

Chairman of the march is Mrs. J. P. Silvestri Jr., while a general campaign chairman S. K. Herzog Jr. will direct the business, professional and labor phase.

Anyone who wishes to aid the campaign is urged to contact Herzog or Mrs. Silvestri.

Stolen Truck Found Abandoned At Project

A pickup truck stolen in San Francisco was abandoned at a San Rafael construction project yesterday after thieves apparently were scared away from an attempted theft of lumber.

Irwin E. Lezzeni of H. S. Meinberger and Son of San Rafael told San Rafael police that the truck, registered to Peninsula Delivery and Drayage Co. of San Francisco, and partially loaded with lumber, was discovered at a building under construction at 127 Belvedere Street.

There was no one around the truck, Lezzeni said.

Peninsula Delivery and Drayage Co. reported the truck had been stolen Monday night.

San Marin Drive Water Job Is Let

Undergruond Construction Co. of Oakland, lowest of six bidders, last night was awarded a $39,984 contract by the District board to build the San Marin Drive pumping station.

The engineer's estimate was $31,000, said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager. Highest of the six bids was $58,364.

Page Construction Co. of Novato, at $78,984, was the lowest of three bidders to construct shop and warehouse facilities at the district's corporation yard on Railroad Avenue. The low bid is about $21,000 higher than the $57,370 estimate made six months ago, Gilbert said. However, the district architect, Thomas Hubbard, had made some alterations, he added.

The board postponed awarding the contract until a special meeting next Tuesday night when it will also consider salary increases.

Although the District lost money in sale of permits and providing inspection of fishing in Stafford Lake last year, the board voted to continue the practice this year.

Daily permits will be issued by the district for 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. The permits will be available at the district offices, Jim's Sport Shop and at the treatment plant at the dam, Gilbert said. Season permits are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children. The seeason will run from May 1 until after school starts in the fall.

Gilbert warned of the danger of fishing near the spillway of the dam.

The North Marin Water District board also:

1. Approved installation of a 16-inch main from the tank at Sunset Parkway and San Jose Boulevard to Fairway Drive at cost estimated at $80,000.
2. Approved two changes in the Scottsdale agreement. One change recognizes the possible added cost if mains cannot be placed in the highway right of way, and the liability of the City of Novato for extra costs in the assessment district, Gilbert said.
3. Approved extension agreements for Kaden Park Units 2 and 3 of 100 lots adjacent to Novato Hills and Marin Highlands Unit 1 of 60 lots on Vineyard Road.

Waterfront Zone Hearing Slated

Sausaulito Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at 7:45 p.m. today in city hall on waterfront zoning in the Sausalito Properties Inc. areas and on a moratorium on bay fill for the city.

The hearing was requested by the city council after much public opposition to the proposed 10-million-dollar waterfront development was voiced at a council meeting March 3.

Present zoning permits residential and commercial uses in the area along the tidelands between Johnson and Napa streets. The Sausalito Properties proposal, submitted by John Lord King, Belvedere architect, and E. Elmore Hutchison, San Francisco engineer, would include apartment houses, a hotel, two restaurants, a yacht harbor, and a shopping center.

Sonoma Driver Found Innocent

A Marin Municipal Court jury late Monday found Joaquin Caton Dana, 52, of Sonoma, innocent of a drunken driving.

The jury deliberated about two hours. Dana was arrested Feb. 17 on Highway 101 by a sheriff's officer.

Four other men charged with drunken driving were fined in Marin Municipal Court Monday on pleas of guilty. They are Ronnell V. Bell, 38, of 1346 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, fined $220; Ernest Alvin Badder, 41, of 132 Ridge Road, Fairfax, $166; Daniel Miles McKenna, 42, of 334 Shoreline Highway, Mill Valley, $166; and Ronald Joe Massey, 18, of Joshua Tree, San Bernadino County, $166.

Firemen Cut Ring From Girl's Finger

Mill Valley firemen cut off a ring from the finger of Jackie Childers, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Childers of 4 Juanita Avenue, at 7:23 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Childers took her daughter to the firehouse after the ring, placed on the wrong finger, would not come off.

PLANE INJURIES MINOR

Marinite Resumes Tour After Crash

Getting thrown around and bruised in a Mexican plane crash apparently has not ruined a San Rafael man's holiday, his wife reported today.

Mrs. Ruth Carmona of 120 McCoy Road said she learned today from her husband, J. Halford Carmona, that he and three companions already have sailed several hundred miles down the Baja California coast from the town of Mulege, near where their chartered airplane crashed on landing Saturday.

Carmona told his wife by telephone that he and the three other men received only minor cuts and bruises in the crash, which seriously injured the pilot and another man.

With Carmona were two Berkeley men, Max Walden and Jack Vetterli, and Don McCreedy of Los Angeles. They had flown to Mexico to reach Walden's yacht, the Matai.

Although the pilot was an experienced ex-airline pilot, Carmona told his wife, he was unable to stop the plane in time when he tried to land on an extremely short strip near Mulege. When he attempted to take off again, the aircraft struck a mountain.

A wing and part of the tail flew off, as did the spare fuel tank. The plane then burned. Carmona said most of his belongings were destroyed, but he saved a camera and was able to photograph the burning wreckage.

Mrs. Sarmona said her huspand predicted he will not return to San Rafael for at least a week.

A teak tree must grow for more than a century before it can be harvested.

Orchard Hits At McCabe On School Aid

Merle P. Orchard of Ukiah, seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress, criticized his Democratic opponent, George E. McCabe, last night in the San Rafael courthouse at a meeting of Marin Young Democrats.

McCabe's statement that he is for federal aid to education "with no strings attached" is "totally unrealistic and undesirable," Orchard declared.

"Any education bill must have some strings or conditions attached," the Ukiah attorney said. He listed these conditions that should be included: That the money would be used properly and economically, that it should not help perpetuate discrimination in schools, and that recipient states should be required to meet certain minimum educational standards in their schools.

Orchard said he favors federal aid to education, with the conditions attached, and passage of the Youth Opportunities Bill.

The Young Democrats, a teen-age group headed by Bob Black, endorsed Pierre Salinger for U.S. Senate nomination over Alan Cranston by a vote of 22 to 6. The group took no stand in the race between Orchard and McCabe.

Marin Juvenile Aide Promoted

Thomas B. Estes, 32, has been named permanent supervising probation officer, head of the juvenile division of Marin County Probation Office.

Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher, yesterday announced the appointment. Estes was tentatively named to the post after resignation in January of J. Paul Dowdall, who went to the California State Department of Social Welfare.

Estes, of 656 Olive Street, Novato, is married and has three children. He began with the department Dec. 15, 1958, and was a deputy probation officer prior to his promotion.

Assigned To Hawaii

Airman 1/c Stephen von Bonin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerhardt von Bonin of 47 Upland Avenue, Mill Valley, has been assigned to a military air transport service unit at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii. He is a flight traffic specialist.

Sausalito Council Names Dyk Mayor

Jan Paul Dyk, manager of the inward freight department of the Holland-America Line in San Francisco, was chosen mayor of Sausalito last night.

He succeeds Paul Micou, who resigned last night and will move to Washington, D.C., to become a foreign service reserve officer with the State Department's agency for international development. Dyk and Micou were elected in 1962.

Dyk's first act of business was to ask for nominations to fill the unexpired seat of Micou. The council appointed Earl F. Dunphy. Dyk then appointed Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson, chairman, and Dunphy to the finance committee.

Gabrielson was elected vice mayor. Prior to Dyk's being seated as mayor, canvass of ballots from the April 14 election was reported by outgoing City Clerk Charleine Strittmatter.

Mrs. Strittmatter administered the oath of office to Councilmen Gabrielson, Melvin S. Wax and Eleanor O'Hara Chapin and to Edwin S. Long, incumbent city treasurer.

Mrs. Miriam B. Ansell (who ran for election under her former name of Miriam Brecka) was appointed as city clerk. Mrs. Ansell received 1,260 votes in the election. She takes the position as an appointee, however, since the voters decided that the office should be appointive, not elective as heretofore. Mrs. Brecka was married April 4 to Bernard W. Ansell.

"I would like to thank the people of Sausalito for permitting me to represent them," said Micou. He thanked the city manager and all other employees, the Independent-Journal for its "fair treatment."

Gabrielson nominated Dyk for mayor, Wax seconded the motion and the vote was unanimous.

Sausalito Ups Cooper To Police Lieutenant

Sausalito City Council last night approved establishment of the position of acting lieutenant on the police department, who would be in command in the absence of Chief Kenneth H. Huck.

Sgt. David Cooper was named to the job by Huck, effective May 1. His assignment will remain the same, as will his pay, though outgoing Councilman Michael Harris suggested that if the job entails added responsibilities, more pay should be considered.

"Creation of the position will insure the availability of command personnel at all times and further fix responsibility for command level decisions," Huck said. There now are three sergeants, Cooper, Howard Goerndt and Ted Zink. There are no lieutenants.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Referred to the city attorney a request by United Sand and Gravel Co. for temporary conditional use permit to continue to sell sand and gravel on A. G. Schoonmaker Co. property.

2. Accepted low bid of $8,594 by V. Maggiora and Son Inc., Sausalito, for sewer construction at the second firehouse, now being built at Spencer Avenue and Highway 101.

3. Adopted a resolution asking that a Sausalito Boulevard assessment district be prepared and continued a public hearing on the subject to May 5. M. Phyllis Woodbridge and James C. McConnell, representing a little under half of the total area of the proposed district, protested by letters.

4. Accepted notices of completion of street widening on Third Street from Richardson to North Streets and Bridgeway shoulders, Napa to Spring streets.

5. Approved "stop" and "stop ahead" signs at Sausalito Boulevard and Third Street.

6. Postponed action on approval of supplemental agreement with North Bay Operative Library System to May 5.

7. Authorized payment of $3,750 to Roger Heiser for a strip of land condemned in about 1957 with the building of Highway 101 freeway.

8. Adopted ordinances prohibiting parking of vehicles for longer than 10 minutes at several locations and providing for parking meters along the west side of Bridgeway between the Village Fair and Grace Apartments.

College Hopes For $600,000 In State Bonds

College of Marin is hoping to receive about $600,000 from the $360-million-dollar state construction bond issue to be submitted to voters in November.

The estimate is based on a California Junior College Assn. proposal for distributing 40 million dollars of the bond issue earmarked for junior colleges.

A resolution and letter to the state senate governmental efficiency committee from the Marin Junior College District board calls for the legislature to adopt the distribution formula before the election.

"A distribution formula, known in advance, will increase junior college enthusiasm for assisting in passage of the bond issue," the board resolution reads.

Hub City Parking Petitions Signed

A majority of retail businesses in the proposed San Anselmo parking district are represented on petitions calling for realization of the $578,409 off-street parking project, Douglas Flautt, city administrator, reported today.

"The committee of 20 businessmen who have organized to get signatures on the petitions has been extremely successful," Flautt said.

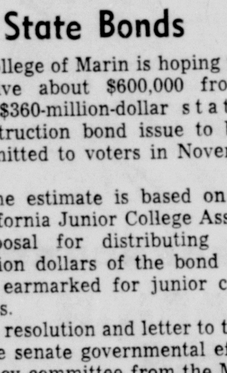

However, names on the petitions to date represent nearly 20 per cent of the assessed valuation i nthe parking district and the men who individually will be assessed the most for the project, he said.

Three Marinites Indicted On Loan Kickback Charges

Three Marin County residents have been indicted on criminal conspiracy charges involving kickbacks on loan transactions, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk's office announced today.

The three men were taken into custody yesterday along with the former manager of a savings and loan association in Napa, who reportedly received the kickbacks.

Marinites in custody are Dan R. Nunan of 5 Nunan Lane, San Rafael, manager of the Pacific Coast Mortgage Co.; William R. Atkinson of 12 Siena Way, San Rafael, and Ross E. Kelly, whose address was given as Kentfield.

Mosk's office listed Kelly and Atkinson as real estate developers.

The last of the four defendants is Robert E. Skinner, former manager of the Silverado Savings and Loan Assn. of Napa.

According to the indictment returned by the Napa County Grand Jury April 9, Skinner, Nunan and Kelly entered into an agreement whereby Skinner, without the approval of his board of directors, would make loans to Kelly in excess of the loan limitations of the state finance code.

Kelly paid more than $4,000 in cash kickbacks after loan transactions in Marin County, reported Deputy Atty. Gen. Roy H. Schulz.

"When it became apparent that Skinner could make no further loans to Kelly, Atkinson was brought in to borrow $50,000 to provide a down payment for a lot in Terra Linda," Schulz said. "Atkinson paid an additional $2,500 in cash to Skinner following the loan."

Schulz and Dist. Atty. James D. Boitano presented the case to the Napa County Grand Jury after six months of investigation by the county and the state.

The state financial code makes it a felony for an officer, director or employee of a savings and loan association to receive or agree to receive any commission for his personal benefit for procuring a loan from his association.

Court Halts Primary In Stassen Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court today ordered California to suspend preparations for its June 2 presidential primary election pending outcome of an appeal by Harold Stassen for a place on the ballot.

Counsel for Stassen appealed to the court yesterday to review and overturn a California Supreme Court decision upholding the state secretary of state's refusal to certify Stassen's name for Republican primary ballot.

Stassen's counsel also asked for a stay pending full Supreme Court action on the appeal.

Douglas in a brief order directed that California Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan advise each county clerk "by the most expeditious means possible" of the pendency of the Stassen appeal.

Douglas further ordered that the county clerks be told "to suspend all action, procedures or other activities relating to the publication of presidential primary notices or printing or mailing of sample ballots, ballots, or absentee ballots for the presidential election to be held June 2 pending the action of the Supreme Court" upon Stassen's appeal.

Jordan refused to certify Stassen on the ground his nomination papers were accompanied by only 10,000 signatures of registered voters, instead of the 13,702.

The Stassen for President Citizens Committee contends that 25,000 signatures had been submitted.

Fairfax Teachers Get Salary Hikes

Trustees of the Fairfax School District last night approved a new teacher salary schedule which represents an increase of 3 to 4 per cent over the current schedule.

The new pay will range from $5,250 to $9,250, according to Supt. Homer Sisk. The current salary schedule ranges from $5,200 to $8,800.

Trustees also approved raises of about 3 per cent for classified employees. Consideration of raises for school principals was delayed until a special meeting at 7:45 p.m. May 1. Next year's budget will also be discussed at that session.

Corte Maderan Hurt As Ram Hits Pole

Robert Leroy Byers, 20, of 30 Pacific Queen Passage, Corte Madera, was treated for a cut forehead at Marin General Hospital after the car he was driving hit a power pole on College Avenue in Kentfield at 8:45 p.m. yesterday.

Byers was driving south on College Avenue when he hit the pole while turning into the parking lot of the Eat And Run Drive-In, according to the California Highway Patrol.

McCarthy To Back Bill For Sign Curbs

State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) will actively support Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg's bill to control outdoor advertising along major highways.

This re-assurance from the Marin senator came in a letter today to Mrs. Norman B. Livermore of Ross, past president of the Marin Conservation League.

"You may recall that I wrote you under date of March 16 to assure you this bill will have my active and enthusiastic support," said McCarthy. "It has now cleared the Assembly and will be considered in the Senate Transportation Committee on April 28."

The bill (AB 38) prohibits, with certain exceptions, the placing outdoor advertising within 800 feet of the dge of the right-of-way of any highway in the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways and state highway system. It provides for licensing, restriction and regulation of outdoor signs permitted within such 800-foot area.

Daylight Burglar Steals Firearms

A daytime burglar broke into a San Rafael home Monday afternoon and stole enough firearms to start a minor revolution.

John Robert Gabrielsen of 311 Coleman Drive, a retired highway patrolman, told police that five guns were stolen between 1 and 4 p.m. yesterday. Nothing else was disturbed.

The weapons included a .45-caliber revolver, three shotguns, and a .22-caliber rifle, worth $810 in all.

Inspector Richard Camper said there was no sign of forced entry into the home, but the thief had pried open the locked gun cabinet.

Trustee Meet Off

The San Anselmo Elementary School District Board postponed its scheduled meeting last night for lack of a quorum. The board will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School.

Conservation Unit Re-Elects Three

Mrs. Mary Summers, former Marin County planning director, was unanimously re-elected to a third term as president of the Marin Conservation League Monday night by the board of directors.

Mrs. Summers, who resides at 99 Rock Road, Kentfield, took over a league president two years ago following her resignation as county planning director.

Two other incumbent officers also unanimously voted into office for a new term were Mrs. T. J. Donnelly of San Anselmo, recording secretary, and George L. Pheips of Kentfield, treasurer.

The remaining officers will be named at an election scheduled for next month's regular board of directors meeting, Mrs. Summers announced.

The league last night agreed to work for inclusion of 1,800 acres of open land south of Fairfax in the proposed state park on lands owned by Marin Municipal Water District. The area, which includes the Cascade and Deer Park areas, is owned by the water district, but was not included in the proposed park by the Park and Recreation Commission.

The directors also agreed to support the proposed acquisition by the county of about 60 acres of tidelands in Richardson Bay opposite Marin City.

Regular board meetings are held the third Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Caroline Livermore Room, Marin Art and Garden Center at Ross, Mrs. Summers said.

Innocent Pleas In Price Fixing

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. Steel Corp. and seven other major steel producers pleaded innocent in federal court yesterday to a federal indictment alleging a plot to fix prices of carbon sheet steel, the most widely used steel in consumer products.

James P. Barton of Pittsburgh, one of the two steel executives also named in the indictment, also pleaded innocent. He was product manager of sheet and strip products with U.S. Steel from 1955 until recently when he was elevated to assistant general manager of administrative service.

The seven other companies entering pleas were: Bethlehem, the No. 2 producer; Jones and Laughlin, ARMCO, National, Republic, Wheeling and Great Lakes.

School Art Importance Is Stressed

Art should not be an isolated activity but an integral part of the curriculum, Mill Valley School District trustees were told Monday night.

Dr. Howard Slatoff, associate professor of art at Hayward State College, said schools should be "setting the aesthetic climate of the community."

Slatoff suggested that the best way to assure good art instruction is to establish a definite course of study.

Mrs. Harry Brunn, second-grade teacher at Tamalpais Valley School, said art helps children "think fully and deeply." She showed samples of illustrated stories, paper puppets and paper folding, explaining how art activities may be combined with social studies, reading, mathematics and other subjects.

An art lesson was conducted by Nicholas T. Themely, sixth-grade teacher at Old Mill School. The program was arranged by William E. Lovvorn, principal of Old Mill and Marin Terrace schools.

Scientists calculate that the earth's crust quavers 100,000 times a year.

Guide Dogs Graduation Exercises Set Saturday

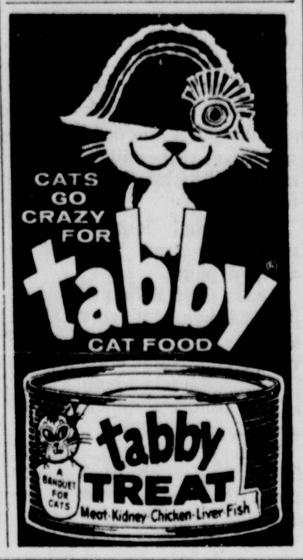

Graduation exercises of Guide Dogs for the Blind of San Rafael will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday on the campus on Los Ranchitos Road.

Mrs. Gould Jones of Atherton, co-chairman of the San Mateo County guide dog committee, and committee members will be hostesses for the public ceremonies.

Among the graduates from Arizona, Colorado, Kansas and California is Mrs. Ethel Finkenbinder of Denver, Colo., who has been featured this month on radio station KTIM's Man of the Street program with her reports on the training process with her golden retriever, Wilbur.

Other graduates are Mrs. Buena V. Chorn of Augusta, Kan., Modesto Corona of Hayden, Ariz., Mrs. Sylvia Miller of Stockton, and Mrs. Frances E. Slattery of Des Moines, Iowa, with their German shepherds, and Miss Helen Waring of Tucson, Ariz., and Jack P. Gentle of Santa Clara with their golden retrievers.

Following presentation of the dogs to the students by the 4-H Club members who raised them, there will be an obedience demonstration, a brief tour of the campus, and refreshments.

The "bitter end" is the inboard portion of a ship's anchor cable.

Moulton Renamed In San Geronimo

Members of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. Monday night elected L. A. Moulton president for another year.

Earl Barnett was named vice president; Mrs. Georgette Vilas, recording secretary; Mrs. Earl Frank, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Marx Furdas, treasurer, and Mrs. Maud S. Gardner, Sam Rouder, Jean Bevans, Richard Handley, Grace Zanolini and Al Schivo, directors.

Members agreed to sponsor a public debate between Mrs. Vilas and William G. McBride, her opponent in a May 5 election on recall in the Lagunitas School District.

Recall action was started against Mrs. Vilas after she joined two other trustees in voting against renewal of Supt. Clifford L. Frye's contract.

AMERICAN PAY IS TOPS, BUT NOT IN BENEFITS

Average U.S. Worker Earns $2.50 Per Hour While In Japan, 37 Cents

By MORTON A. REICHEK
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—A recent survey of worker earnings in the free world's leading industrial nations shows that Americans are by far the highest paid in terms of hourly wages—which should surprise none.

But the study also shows that workers in several other countries do better than Americans on so-called fringe or supplementary benefits when the extras are measured as a percentage of wages.

Average hourly earnings of a U.S. worker in manufacturing, according to latest figures, amount to $2.50. The next highest paid is the Canadian industrial worker with an average hourly wage of $1.81.

In U.S. dollars, here is the average hourly pay of other foreign production workers: Sweden, $1.28; Great Britain, $1.01; Switzerland, 98 cents; West Germany, 88 cents; Belgium, 70 cents; Netherlands, 58 cents; France, 55 cents; Italy, 52 cents; and Japan, 37 cents.

The Italian worker receives the equivalent of 74 per cent of his hourly pay in fringe benefits. By comparison, the average American worker gets the equivalent of only 16 per cent of his hourly wages as supplementary benefits.

The Italian receives a family allowance from the government to which his employer contributes. He gets more vacation time than the average American worker, a housing and transportation allowance, plus the standard fringes such as sick leave, severance pay, and the like.

But even after lumping in the fringe benefits, the average total compensation for an Italian industrial worker adds up to only 90 cents an hour. For the American manufacturing worker, the total, including fringes, is $2.90 an hour.

Other countries where fringe benefits rate as a high percentage of hourly pay: France, 51 per cent; Belgium, 31 per cent; West Germany, 35 per cent; Netherlands, 30 per cent.

Fringe benefits for Canadian workers are in line with the U.S. average—an amount equal to 16 per cent of hourly pay.

Workers in Japan, Sweden, Switzerland, and Great Britain have fringe benefits worth slightly less than this amount.

Comparisons of earnings, of course, do not necessarily give an accurate picture of the relative well-being of workers in different countries. Lower costs of living in one country, for example, could offset higher wages in another.

But Labor Department experts say that international price comparisons are so hard to calculate that they are unable to make any meaningful relationship right now between wages and the cost of lving in one country as compared to another.

But they are trying to come up with a study which hopefully will show the amount of work-time required to buy the same kinds of goods and services in major countries. This sort of analysis will relate comparative wages and costs of living more meaningfully.

For example, the Labor Department figured out a couple of years ago that it would take an average American production worker in a manufacturing industry four minutes of work to earn enough to buy an ounce of toothpaste.

It would require 44 minutes of work to pay for a haircut, 41 hours and eight minutes of work to buy a portable electric sewing machine, six hours and 26 minutes for an automatic electric toaster, and 25 minutes of work to pay for admission to a movie.

Similarly, it would require seven minutes of work time to buy a pack of cigarettes, 32 minutes to pay for six 12-ounce cans of beer, one hour and 50 minutes of work for a fifth of blended whisky, and about 11 weeks of work to buy a four-year-old low-priced used car.

In trying to work up similar figures for industrial workers in major foreign countries, the experts will be able to clarify the meaning of the latest statistics on wages.

News, Signs, Ads Boost Redwood Visits

Directors of the Redwood Empire Assn. last weekend heard that REA's accelerated advertising and publicity programs have pushed public interest in the nine-county region up by 20 per cent over 1963.

Vice president J. Dwight O'Dell of Fortuna also reported more than 15,000 prospective travelers have called at REA's Visitors Information Center in downtown San Francisco since it opened last June.

Meeting in Santa Rosa, the association leaders ratified lease of three colorful 14-by-14-foot highway billboards to siphon motor traffic into the region. Two are at Williams, on Highway 99, directing travelers via Lake County; the third is north of Grants Pass.

On May 8, REA's supervisors' unit will meet at Siegler Springs to present annual county highway priorities schedules for submission to the state. Also to explore feasibility of financing a second crossing of San Francisco Bay northward into Marin County, according to unit president Andrew Fagiani of Napa.

CAN BE STICKY

Nation's Economy Runs On Credit

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Credit makes the business world go around.

Americans use credit to buy more, spend more and borrow more than any others.

Use of credit has made the United States the richest in the world.

It keeps the automobile assembly lines rolling. Department stores do more than 8 billion dollars of credit business annually.

But sometimes credit becomes a sticky business. Bankruptcy and other miseries are ahead for those whose credit becomes overextended.

This factor and what can be done about it was discussed this week by Harry E. Fuller, vice president of Capital Finance Co. of Columbus, Ohio, at the National Retail Merchants Assn.'s credit management division conference.

Fuller pointed out that in 1950 the installment consumer credit outstanding stood at 14.7 billion dollars and that in that year 33,392 personal bankruptcies were filed. By 1963 installment credit had risen to 53.7 billion dollars and there were 155,000 personal bankruptcies.

With more people floundering under the weight of debt, Capital Finance Corp. in 1955 established in Columbus a free debt counseling service called Economy Budget Service Co.

Unlike commercial debt pooling companies, this one did not charge for its services.

"We believe that those who need this service are least able to pay for it," Fuller said.

During its eight-year history, Economy Budget's counselors have handled more than 5,000 inquiries from people owing more than 10 million dollars.

Each person owed an average of $2,000 to an average of 10 creditors.

Of the 5,000 who inquired, more than 3,800 were interviewed. Some weren't interested in the discipline of a budget and never returned. Others needed only guidance and left to handle their own affairs. Some were so involved nothing could help.

Hiller Denies Acquisition

PALO ALTO (AP)—The Hiller Aircraft Co. acknowledged yesterday that acquisition of Hiller by Fairchild Stratos Corp. of Hagerstown, Md., had been discussed but denied that an agreement had been signed.

Edward T. Bolton, executive vict president of Hiller, said there was no basis for a report that Fairchild has already acquired the company.

Hiller, a division of the Eltra Corp., manufactures helicopters.

Warriors Host Celts Tonight

Look for the San Francisco Warriors to display some added muscle to go with their hustle tonight when they try to stay alive against the rampaging Boston Celtics in the third game of the NBA championship playoff at the Cow Palace, 8:15.

The Celts hold a 2-0 margin in the best-of-seven series after a couple of handy wins at the Boston Garden, where Warriors coach Alex Hannum did a quick burn during Sunday's 124-101 rout.

"I'm looking forward to returning to the friendly confines of the Cow Palace," Hannum said yesterday.

Coach Red Auerbach of the Celtics went into hiding yesterday as soon as the team arrived from Boston but a team spokesman quoted him as saying, "We'll be satisfied to split these two games with the Warriors and finish the series in Boston. This club is too good and too big to lose four straight games."

Jim Loscutoff, who has appeared in six previous playoffs with the Celts, remained home because of a bad back. Outside of that, they were pronounced in good shape as they drove for their sixth straight NBA crown and seventh in eight seasons.

After tonight's game, the teams meet again at the "Palace" Friday. If the Warriors still are in business, the series resumes in Boston on Sunday.

Big Week Starts For S.F. Giants; Lefties Will Pitch Against Reds

CONNOLLY

The week of the "big wind" dawns for the S.F. Giants, who in the next 11 games, could mirror the National League scuffle. To say it is going to be a cakewalk, a breeze, a shoo-in or a waltz for the Giants to capture the flag is bordering on insanity. Lets just say they have been lucky and snared a few close ones they used to kick overboard. A team that is a top-flighter seems to make its own breaks. They sometimes win games that are hopelessly lost. Since the Giants came west they haven't been considered a "lucky club"—they've lost more close ones and blew cliff hangers oftener than they've won 'em.

BUT THIS week the showdown for pitching looks certain. Today's road debut in Milwaukee found Bob Hendley, the string bean lefty, going to the post in his second start. Bob has a lot of heart, is a hustler, a know-how guy and not just an ordinary pitcher. He's either going to be a lot of help to the San Francisco cause, or he's going to be no good at all. His value is being able to take his regular start and act in the capacity of a relief ace as well. When you get a nice nudge from Warren Spahn, you must have it coming. And "Spahnie" makes no secret of the fact that he believes Hendley has great potential.

Spahn and Hendley, having been teammates at Milwaukee, are on terms better than just a passing acquaintance.

"IF I WAS asked to pick the fellow I consider the best looking southpaw in the league, I'd have to say Hendley," Spahn declared while here, explaining that he didn't include any member of the Milwaukee Club in his appraisal of Hendley.

But so much for Hendley who is important only because he is expected to share with Billy O'Dell and Billy Pierce most of the southpawing for the Giants.

Hendley goes again on Sunday in the double header against the Cincy Reds. Before he checked out yesterday manager Alvin Dark indicated he would throw as many lefthanded pitchers he could at the Reds.

ACCORDING to skipper Dark, he plans to use O'Dell in the opener against Cincinnati Friday, follow with Juan Marichal on Saturday and with Jack Sanford and Hendley in the twin bill on Sunday.

Outside of the unsteadiness of the Giant pitching and a decided lack of power at the plate, the club measured up to snuff. If it hadn't been for Willie Mays, however, I'm not so sure they would have been much better in their first seven games than the Dodgers were. But the Say Hey Kid has a way of carrying the entire club. When he gets going he gets his hits in bunches, and his home runs the same way. There will never be a day when Willie Mays won't be missed. He's the core of the club. He can light up an entire ball club either at bat, in the field, or on the bases. And there isn't anyone else in baseball that can even compare.

A LOT OF guffaw has been spilled about Jim Hart, the hefty rookie third sacker. He's always been an average infielder and a great hitter in the minor league, and it looks to date like that is just the way he's going to be in the majors.

"It is going to take Hart a trip around the circuit before he settles down but from what I've seen of him, in the field and at bat, I'm quite contended," Manager Dark explains.

Two or three times last week Dark was tempted to send in a pinch hitter for Hart and also for Jesus Alou, but he bucked the tiger and stayed with his kids and they came through in flying colors.

DUKE SNIDER, to the amazement of veterans, has had very little batting practice this spring and he shows and looks like a guy who is stale. But from now on the Duke will get his batting licks in large bites as he is slated for morning bat drills as well as afternoon and evening batting.

"I just hope Duke finds his eye before long," says Cookie Lavagetto and Hank Sauer, Giant coaches. "But he's definitely in need of batting work. His legs are in shape and his arm is great and just as soon as his lamps light up, he'll be off to the races."

Orlando Cepeda Still On Giant Injured List

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A full house of 40,000-plus was expected to be on hand today when San Francisco lefty Bob Hendley took on his old Milwaukee mates in the Braves' home opener.

Another young southpaw, Denny LeMaster, was expected to serve them up for Milwaukee.

The Giants compiled a 5-2 record during a home stand in which they did not look good and today's contest marked the opener of an 11-game road trip.

Following today's one-game series, the Giants move into Cincinnati Friday for the opener of a four-game weekend blast against the rugged Reds.

The Giants again will probably be without the services of Orlando Cepeda, who is hitting .545 but just can't get the coreness out of his right knee.

Cepeda sustained the injury during spring training and reinjured it last Wednesday night. He hoped to play some in the Reds' series.

Although Giant stars such as Willie McCovey and Juan Marichal have been having their problems in the early going, centerfielder Willie Mays has been a sensation with a .444 batting average and six homers.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Cleveland Downs Kansas City, 5-3

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Convelescing Birdie Tebbetts reports he's coming along just and some home run therapy by Leon Wagner.

Tebbetts is recovering from a recent heart attack in Tucson, Ariz., and one of the few things he does every day is check to see how his Cleveland ball club is doing.

He has a special interest in Wagner because the Indians tried to get him from the Los Angeles Angels for two years and finally succeeded last December.

"Daddy Wags," as Wagner refers to himself and also is called by others, says he's tickled in his new Cleveland surroundings, that he had looked forward to playing for Birdie, but that he'll try equally as hard for George Strickland, who is managing the club until Tebbetts can fully recuperate.

Wagner hit 26 homers for the Angels last year and insists he can better that total appreciably with the Indians.

He belted his second homer of the season with one on in the eighth inning last night to bring the Indians from behind and lead them to a 5-3 victory over the Kansas City A's. The blow was something of a tonic for Tebbetts in Arizona but it helped spoil the Athletics' home opener, witnessed by 28,165 fans, who wondered occasionally last winter whether there would be major league baseball in Kansas City this season.

Wagner's blow sailed completely over the right field "pennant porch" and came off loser Diego Segui, who had homered himself with the bases empty in the seventh to put Kansas City ahead 2-1.

ADD TWO MORE

The Indians added two more runs in the ninth but winning pitcher Jim (Mudcat) Grant yielded to reliever Ted Abernathy in the bottom of the ninth after giving up a homer to Bill Bryan and a single to rookie Dick Green.

Detroit defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 6-4, in the only other American League game played. The Washington-Minnesota game was rained out.

In the National League, Cincinnati beat Houston, 10-5, Pittsburgh downed Chicago, 8-York game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Cincinnati raked former teammate Jim Owens and four Houston relievers for 16 hits as southpaw Jim O'Toole picked up his second win of the season although he had to leave in the seventh after being hit on the finger by a batted ball.

NINE HOMERS

Chico Ruiz hit an inside-the-park homer while Pete Rose, Vada Pinson and John Edwards each collected three hits for the Reds.

Gene Freese's pinch homer in the ninth inning off rookie Fred Norman broke a 5-all tie between the Pirates and Cubs and featured a contest in which nine homers, only one short of a N.L. record, were hit.

Rookie Jim Stewart, Andre Rodgers, Ron Santo, rookie Billy Cowan and Billy Williams connected for the Cubs while Roberto Clemente, Dick Schofield and Jim Pagliaroni homered for the Pirates as well as Freese.

Roy Face, last of three Pirate pitchers, was credited with his second victory and Norman was the loser.

Don Carter Knocked Out Of Masters

OAKLAND (AP)—St. Louis pro bowler Dick Weber polished off Don Carter in a strike exhibition last night at the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament—then returned to blow an apparent victory over Robbie Robinson of Wilmington, Del.

And, Weber added embarrassment to his defeat by guttering a ball in the third game of his series with Robinson—finishing with a 153.

Weber won his match over Carter by a 978-975 margin, eliminating Carter from the double elimination Masters. Carter had dropped his first match to Bill Aziz of El Paso, Tex., on Sunday.

BIG START

Minutes later Weber was headed for what appeared a sure win over Robinson.

Weber rolled a 256 in their first game and backed this up with a 236 in the second game. The 153 score in the third halted his scoring stride.

Robinson won 899-867.

Billy Welu and his Falstaff teammate Harry Smith, the defending champion, set up a fight for the winner's bracket title and a shot at the 1964 Masters crown with victories on the same squad.

Welu, of St. Louis, had a 951 outing to drop Norm Meyers, of Los Angeles, with an 826. This was Welu's fifth straight victory and the tall pro has an amazing 230 pins game average for his first 20 games in the finals.

12 STRAIGHT

Smith ran his Masters victory string to 12 when he stopped another Falstaff teammate, Glen Allison, 836-814.

Pete Tountas, Chicago's only hope for the title, eliminated Los Angeles' Bill Tucker, 874-800; then upped his string of 16 sets over 800 as he eliminated Earl Johnson of Minneapolis, 911-820. Johnson had earlier put former Masters champion Tom Hennessey of St. Louis in a loser's bracket battle, 906-826.

Welu and Smith were to meet today to determine which will be in the Masters title match tomorrow night. The winner of the Masters win $4,000 plus $50 for each match won.

YACHTS

Perpetual Cup Race July 20

The stage is set for the 1964 round of the long-time battle for possession of the San Francisco Perpetual Yachting Trophy.

The St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco has challenged the San Diego Y.C. to a race this summer. The San Diego club, holder of the trophy for many years, accepted the challenge and set July 20 as the race date.

The SFYC has named Tim Moseley's 63-foot cutter, Orient, as the craft which will attempt tow rest the cup away from the southland. Moseley, skipper of the Orient, will have to do quite a bit of sailing and traveling to keep the date in San Diego.

BERMUDA RACE

Moseley has chartered the Bolero, out of New York, for the June 20 Bermuda race. This event will run over three or four days, and then Moseley and his crew must sail the yacht back to Gotham. As fast as he can, the captain will have to get himself and his crew back to the coast, sail the Orient down to San Diego, and still find some time for that all-important practice. Quite a chore for the San Francisco boys, but the prize is worth any effort to northern yachtsmen.

Three Wins For San Rafael Gal

Katie Parnow led the San Rafael Swim Club with three first places in the PALA meet last weekend at the Palo Alto High School.

Katie, swimming in the girls 8 and under class, won the 50 free (35.3), the 50 butterfly (43.9) and the 50 breaststroke (50.6). Other fine performances turned in by San Rafael swimmers:

Larry Collins, boys 13-14, won the 100 free (1:00.2), and placed second in the 100 fly and the 100 back; Joanne Morehouse, girls 9-10, won the 50 breast (42.2); Cookie Arrighi, girls 9-10, won the 50 free (34.4) and placed second in the 50 back, and Bonnie Sluser, girls 11-12, finished second in the 50 breast.

Liston, Clay In Rematch?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A September rematch between heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston was closer to realization today.

Liston's attorney said last night the former champ had agreed to meet all conditions listed by Clay's advisors.

Attorney Bill Cherry said at Chester, Pa., that Liston, who lost the heavyweight title to Clay at Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 25, agreed to sell his remaining stock in Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., and also cancel Clay's return bout contract with the organization.

Liston also agreed to apply to the World Boxing Assn. (WBA) "as soon as possible" for reinstatement, Cherry added.

These conditions had been listed by William Faversham, Clay's manager, as prerequisities to a rematch.

Faversham, who was unavailable for comment on Cherry's statements, said earlier negotiations had been in progress with Jack and Bob Nilon, chief officers of Inter-Continental, for several days.

He said Louisville, Clay's hometown, is "being considered" as a site for the fight.

Mrs. O'Grady Wins Tourney

Mrs. Earl O'Grady shot a 96-27—69 to win the trophy tourney at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club yesterday. Winners were:

Class A—Mrs. George Greenwood, 95-23—72; Mrs. Victor Verdellet, 96-24—72; Mrs. J. B. Dell 'Era, 99-25—74.

Class B—Mrs. Earl O'Grady, 96-27—69; Mrs. Fred Craddock, 99-28—71; Mrs. M. Bramonte, 101-28—73.

Class C—Mrs. M. A. Jacobs, 103-31—72; Mrs. John Sauter, 109-31—78; Mrs. Parker Archer, 115-36—79.

Harvard won the 1963 Eastern hockey title with a 4-3 victory over Boston College.

SAN RAFAEL SWIMMERS CLINCH TITLE

The rampaging San Rafael High School swimmers clinched a tie for the title in the Marin Athletic League yesterday by whipping Redwood High, 73-22.

Undefeated in dual meets all year, the Bulldogs have yet to be threatened by a MAL team. In the meet with the Giants, who hold down second place in the league, San Rafael lost only one event in its drive to the title.

Jim Allen won both the 200 freestyle (1:58.3) and the 400 freestyle (4:23.8) for the Bulldogs, and Tom Knopf was on top in the 100 butterfly (57.1) and the 200 individual medley (2:18.0). The two San Rafael boys thus contributed 20 points to the winning cause, almost as much as the entire Redwood team score.

Eric Phillips, who was also on the victorious medley relay team, set a San Rafael mark in the 100 breaststroke, winning in 1:08.1.

The San Rafael B team, undefeated in league meets, also was insured of a share of the MAL title as it downed the Redwood Bees, 64-22.

Elsewhere on the swim front yesterday George Girvin smashed a three-year-old record to help the Drake High School mermen to a 56-47 victory over Novato High.

Girvin swam the 200 individual medley in 2:19.8 to beat the old record by four seconds. He also took the 100 butterfly event in 59.7.

Bulldog Ace Stops Drake On One Hit

Southpaw Jim Schmidt pitched a one-hitter and second sacker Wade Roberts supported him with some timely hitting as undefeated San Rafael Bulldogs whipped the Drake Pirates 5-1 yesterday.

Only hit off Schmidt was a first inning single by Russ Damos. It was in that inning that Drake got its lone run when the effectively wild Schmidt, who issued eight walks while striking out seven during the game, walked Larry Gerughty with the bases full.

Roberts, meanwhile drove across four runs with a two-run single in the fourth and two-run homer in the sixth.

Catholic '9' Squeeks By Redwood, 3-2

Marin Catholic High School's baseball team capitalized on numerous skulls by the Redwood High nine to slip by with a 3-2 Marin Aathletic League victory yesterday.

After one out in the fourth, Wildcat pitcher Dave Beswick doubled, went to third on a fielding error, and scored on losing Giant pitcher Steve Murphy's balk. Then, successive singles by Marin's Bob Lombardi and George King put Redwood catcher Steve LeBeck foresaw a double-steal situation and called for a pitch-out. Murphy's throw was wild, and Lombardi came home with the second tally.

The final and winning Wildcat run came in the seventh inning with two outs. Thirdsacker Phil Ferris hit a looper to the outfield, which escaped Steve Minutoli for a triple. When Minutoli's relay to the shortstop got by Pat Puccinelli, Ferris kept right on running around to the plate with the deciding score.

Soph Hurls 1-Hitter Over Tam

Sophomore righthander Ed Beckley of Terra Linda High gave up only one single as he bested Tamalpais southpaw Dick Daniels 2-0 in a Marin Athletic League pitching battle yesterday at Tam.

Daniels ruined Beckley's bid for a no-hitter with a clean single in the third. Otherwise, the Terra Linda youngster was superb as he walked no one, but hit a batter, and fanned six in hurling the unbeaten Trojans to their third league victory.

Daniels pitched a two-hitter, but wildness was his downfall. Four walks and a fielder's choice gave the Trojans both their runs in the first inning. Daniels wound up walking nine and striking out seven.

Novato Parks Group Postpones Most Of Agenda

With only four members present, most of the items on the agenda of the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission Monday night were postponed until the next meeting.

Gordon Tandy, Kenneth Morrison, Mrs. Helen Greving and Eugene Trombley were present. Absent were William Keener, Alton Lerch and Donald Slezak. Edmund Mahany, director of parks and recreation, was also absent as his wife gave birth to a son yesterday at Novato Hospital.

Mrs. John Machado of 1424 Dawes Street, proposed that a tots' playground be established on the Marion School yard. Mrs. Greving said she had proposed that idea to the superintendent of Novato Unified School District, but was told the area was needed for parking.

Tandy said the commission was making a study of the use of school playgrounds for recreation and a tots' playground would probably be included.

Boating Deaths Reported Down

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Division of Small Craft Harbors said today six persons perished in boating accidents during the first three months of the year—compared with 13 for the same period a year ago.

There were 52 accidents this year—seven less than in the first quarter of 1963.

However, the division does not count accidents caused by the Alaska earthquake in its report. It said 350 small craft were damaged by tidal waves that followed the quake.

Wall-to-wall carpeting worth $216 vanished from a home in San Rafael before the new occupants moved in, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Vivian Martell told investigators yesterday she was in the process of moving to her new home at 165 San Marino Drive. When she inspected the house last month, the entire house was carpeted.

Yesterday, she found the carpets were gone from two bedrooms.

SECOND SECTION Wed., April 22, 1964 25

BEST PROSPECT for store's growth is a young mother. She is the biggest spender and as her family grows she buys more and more. Store managers will make a special effort to attract this group during National Baby Week (April 25-May 2).

BABY WEEK

Honors Our Hope For Future

The 32nd anniversary of Baby Week this year serves to remind the nation of the tens of thousands of men and women who are employed in doing things for babies.

Col. John Glenn Ate Two Baby Foods While In Orbit

Meat and vegetables for the main course, applesauce for dessert — the first meal ever consumed by an American in orbit around the earth — was made up of modified baby foods.

JOHN GLENN, the famous Marine astronaut was rocketing over Kano, Nigeria, at nearly 18,000 miles per hour when he got hungry. Glenn merely squeezed some specially-designed packages, much like our familiar toothpaste tubes, and dined on a high meat dinner — strained beef and vegetables — and strained applesauce while guiding his craft.

COL. GLENN'S food differed from standard baby fare only in that adult seasonings and some sugar were added to the two courses in deference to his adult taste buds. Gerber Products Co. created the meals using specially-designed packages from the American Can Co. at the request of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA).

Potatoes Are Ever Popular

These potatoes are always popular—with the family and guests.

Roast Stuffed Lamb Shoulder
Oven-roasted Pared Potatoes
Broccoli Orange Carrots
Apple Pie a la Mode Beverage

OVEN-ROASTED PARED POTATOES

6 medium baking potatoes
⅓ cup butter or margarine
Salt, pepper and paprika.

Pare potatoes and quarter lengthwise. Melt butter in an ovenproof glass baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾ inches) in a moderate (350 degrees) oven. Add potatoes to baking dish, coating them with butter. Sprinkle potatoes with salt, pepper and paprika. Bake in moderate oven until tender, about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

THERE ARE foods, clothing, furniture, toys and many more recent additions ranging from car beds and diaper service to pre-mixed formulas for hospitals and specialized formulas for babies with an intolerance to milk.

Serving up the necessities and some of the nicer things in life for babies is an important factor in our economy. Feeding babies, for example, was reported as more than a $300,000,000 industry during 1963.

COMMERCIALLY - prepared baby foods, introduced by Gerber Products Company in grocery stores in 1928, have grown from five basic strained foods to more than 115 specialty items available today.

The many varieties make it easy for mothers to plan tempting, nourishing and satisfying meals for babies and toddlers. They make it simpler to introduce a wide variety of foods which are essential to health and future good food habits," he said.

NOWADAYS IF a baby does not like a particular vegetable or juice or if a certain cereal or meat does not agree with the baby, there are a number of appetizing alternates which guarantee the necessary food values.

Home Quality Control Vital

Wise is the mother who continues the quality control that has been so steadfastly observed in each department of the baby foods plant.

Baby food requires little space and few precautions, yet protection should continue from the time the packages and containers leave the grocery shelf until baby has eaten the last portion.

From Edna Mae McIntosh, nutritionist, come these suggestions:

"BEFORE opening, jars of baby foods — like all canned foods—should be kept in a dry, moderately cool place. Avoid extreme temperatures. Store cereals away from strong-flavored items like soups, detergents or vegetables such as onions. Home stocks of baby foods should be 'rotated,' using up those on hand longest before opening newer purchases.

"At feeding time, transfer just that portion to be fed, to a custard cup or other small dish. If served warm, heat by placing the dish in simmering water. Heating all the food in its original container is not a good practice. Not only can delay in chilling cause spoilage, but repeated heating lessens palatability and can lower nutritive values.

"Cover and refrigerate unserved portions of baby foods promptly in the original container. Remember that the food and inside surfaces of cans and jars are completely-sterilized during processing."

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE is the authority for reassurance on safe storage in the original container — whether foods are packed in tin or in glass.

Add Minced Onion

Like onion flavor with your hamburgers? Then add minced onion to the beef before shaping into patties—about two tablespoons to a pound of beef will be just right.

Do Not Be Just Casual On The Food

The "casual look" has taken over our everyday lives in more than just clothes. Take family mealtimes as an example. Grandma's snowy tablecloth was lovely to look at but real work to launder. It has fallen victim at most meals to easy-to-wash place mats.

Damask napkins still have their place but that isn't when the family eats. More likely the napkins will be paper today.

Kitchen-counter breakfasts, tray lunches, serve-yourself suppers, all these things have lightened the loads of mothers and made eating a lot different today than in years past.

But mothers shouldn't be casual about everything to do with food—and very few are casual about such things as serving meals that are packed with nutrition and reach the family at good, regular periods.

Sunday-Brunch Puffs Are Easy To Serve

Maize, Mint Today's Favored Baby Colors

The traditional "blue for the boy and pink for the girl" has steadily been lost under a blanket of gay pastels for the newcomer. Baby departments of stores have welcomed the relaxed new color scheme, since it means fewer gifts to exchange after the baby arrives. Formerly, stores had a headache changing blue items when the arrival was a girl. A recent survey of specialty stores shows that favorite colors for babies now are maize and mint, with good old white a close third. Baby furniture now comes in luscious daffodil.

Baked Swiss Steak

Swiss steak may be baked in the oven as well as simmered on the top of the range. For baking, brown the floured meat first, then add the rest of the ingredients and cover before placing in a moderate oven until the steak is tender.

For a quick and easy Sunday brunch try this delicious combination of chicken and ham. These two go-togethers simmered in a rich cream sauce and served in tender flaky patty shells are sure to make a hit with the family.

SUNDAY-BRUNCH PUFFS

1 package frozen patty shells
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups cooked diced ham
1 cup cooked diced chicken
½ cup sliced olives
2 tablespoons snipped parsley

Prepare patty shells according to package directions.

In saucepan, melt butter or margarine, then blend in flour. Gradually add milk and stir until mixture thickens. Add remaining ingredients. Heat thoroughly, about five minutes. Spoon into warm patty shells and garnish with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

SUNDAY-BRUNCH PUFFS which are a delicious combination of chicken and ham are so quick and easy to serve. The tender flaky patty shells are sure to be a success with the family.

District 2 Candidates On Radio

Candidates Jess J. France Jr. and Ernest N. Kettenhofen, both seeking the second district seat on the county board of supervisors held by William D. Fusselman, will appear on the KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

The two San Anselmo men will discuss their views with moderator Kitty Oppenheimer, and will answer listeners' questions. The program will be taped and re-broadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Fusselman was invited to appear on the program, Mrs. Oppenheimer said, but declined.

Next week's broadcast will feature candidates in the first supervisorial district, she said.

Voting Procedures For Song, Yell Leaders Revised

Voting procedures for song leader and yell leader have been revised at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Beginning with the up-coming election for fall spirit leaders, try-outs will be on an individual basis. A screening committee will judge each aspiring candidate as he performs to an original routine. This committee will be composed of the head song and yell leaders from the spring semester, the vice president of the student body, a teacher from the music department, a teacher from the girls' physical education department, and the dean of girls.

Campaigning will be done by each candidate as an individual. The seven song leaders receiving the most votes will be elected. The top four yell leading candidates will be elected. In both cases, the student with the most votes will be elected head of his respective group.

Priest Awarded Culture Prize

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The Rev. Dominique Pire, Belgian Roman Catholic priest who won the 1958 Nobel Peace Prize, has been awarded the annual Sonning prize for "meritorious work for the advancement of European culture."

Father Pire is noted for his humanitarian work with European and Asian refugees.

The prize, worth $16,430, was presented at Copenhagen's university yesterday. Previous winners include Albert Schweitzer and Bertrand Russell.

Animal Shelter Fund Drive Gets Under Way

Public drive for funds to support a $250,000 project to provide a new animal shelter in Marin will start in about 30 days, according to Mel Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society.

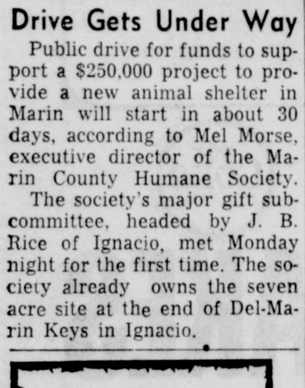

The society's major gift subcommittee, headed by J. B. Rice of Ignacio, met Monday night for the first time. The society already owns the seven acre site at the end of Del-Marin Keys in Ignacio.

It's Time To End Weekend Rabid Animal Foul-Ups

" . . . Complaints have triggered an investigation by County Administrator Alan Bruce, Mel L. Morse, manager of the humane society; and Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, into what can be done to provide better protection for persons menaced by rabid animals—particularly on weekends."

This item in the I-J last week set us to ruminating.

There is nothing new about complaints of failure to get health department or animal pound action on weekends. These complaints are "old stuff" to the health department and the humane society.

In fact, we wonder if they haven't heard so many complaints that they have come to regard them as normal and therefore tend to pay little attention to them.

If you have had a child bit by a strange-acting wild animal, over the weekend, in all probability you experienced a notable lack of interest or concern on the part of the aforesaid health department and humane society.

There is nothing new about this problem, as those of us involved in the past can attest.

It has been brought to the attention of Mel Morse and Dr. Albrecht on previous occasions. They have made investigations and instituted adjustments in the operating procedures of their respective organizations.

But they haven't eliminated the complaints.

Now they are going to investigate themselves again.

If you ask us (especially those of us who have been involved in such problems as triggered the present self-investigation), an investigation by some outside agency is what's needed.

We hesitate to suggest the Grand Jury; that's what people sometimes do when they wish to cast the shadow of suspicion on someone.

We cannot conceive of any criminal wrong-doing in the present situation. But an outsider just might be able to tell those involved "the facts of life" more effectively than they seem able to determine for themselves.

Mel Morse told the I-J that the answer is "more money to add more personnel and equipment."

That looks a little fallacious on its face. They seem to have sufficient personnel and equipment for five week days operation, but lapse on the weekends when demand and requirements seem greatest in the matter of the possible rabid animals.

It looks to us like a simple rearrangement of working schedules, to have people and equipment available when needed, should be the starting point—not the bureaucratic refrain that more money is needed.

The 1963-64 budget provided $382,000 for the operation of the county health department—more than $1,000 per day, including Saturdays and Sundays.

The county is giving the humane society $99,520 for the year to provide pound and allied services. Nothing in the budget says the operation is to be limited to five days per week.

With nearly half a million dollars between them, the two agencies ought to be able to provide service without sniveling for more funds.

'Chief' Built Strength Through Youth

Harris (The Chief) Ricksecker, Mr. Boy Scout of Marin, is gone.

But the Scouting facilities and organization he wrought as executive director of the Marin Boy Scout Council lives on.

It was through Rick's 36 years of work in Scouting, 18 years in this county, that the youth of Marin is now endowed with Scout Hall in San Rafael (donated by the Albert family), the 800-acre Camp Tamarancho in Fairfax, and the 240-acre Marin Sierra Camp at Chubb Lake.

Quiet, efficient and energetic, Rick won the respect of his colleagues and the adoration of the youngsters. It is a tribute to Rick that the youngsters he once guided are now carrying on where he left off.

We join the community in salute to the young man who devoted his lifetime to building strength through youth.

Some School Districts To Have Building Delay Over Rumford

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The full impact of moving back the vote of the people on a school building loan bond issue from June to November was brought out at the most recent meeting of the state allocation board.

By now, even most Democrats admit that the delay from the June to November ballot was occasioned by politics, rather than the welfare of the school children. Had the school bond issue gone on the June ballot, as intended originally, it also would have forced the initiative to repeal the Rumford housing act to be voted on in June.

The administration felt more time was needed to mount a campaign against the repealer.

AT FIRST, administration forces in the Legislature belittled the harm which would be done to the school building aid program by delaying the vote. But, when the bill for the bond issue, A. B. 120, by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley), finally came to a floor vote in the Assembly (it passed 59-1), Democrats admitted there would be construction delays. But they justified them on the need for delaying a vote in hopes of defeating the initiative.

The state allocations board, which administers the school building aid program, set up a new category in its approval of applications for loans at its last meeting — deferred state aid.

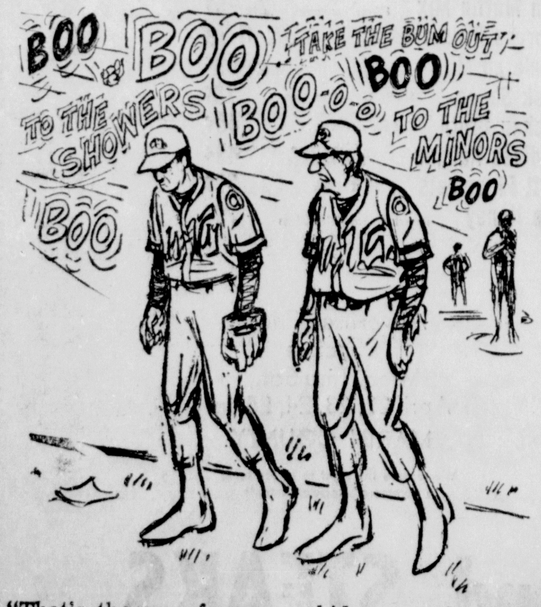

This meant that school districts came in with applications for construction funds. They were approved, and some of the money being approved, and other money being put on a deferred basis.

FOLLOWING APPROVAL of the application for the state funds, there are a number of months of preliminary work before the money actually is needed.

Elementary districts are able to obtain loans for sites based on needs expected because of enrollment in five years. In high school districts, they may compute expected enrollment seven years in advance and obtain loans for site purchases.

ADMITTEDLY, there have been considerable time lags in the school building loan program, and much of the delay in bond fund availability will go toward taking up some of this slack. Thus, the better staffed districts, which have their planning for building programs right up to date, will suffer no appreciable delays.

Humane Agent Cared For Dog

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to voice my opinion on the article you printed for Mr. Allan Stribley on his unjust tirade on Mr. Sousa of the Humane Society, about a cat he found. I was in hospital when I read it, recovering after over three weeks' pre-surgery. Before I had to leave for the hospital I had a problem. I have a pet mongrel dog that I love very much, as I live by myself, and money plays a very large part of my way of living.

What to do about my pet? No money for kennel fee. But some way Mr. Sousa found out about my trouble and called and said they would keep my dog for free, and I had never heard of Mr. Sousa until then. They even came after her. I was called several times at the hospital to tell me how my pet was. This morning they brought her home to me with some cans of dog food. . . .

What About Schools In Our Own Nation?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On your April 14 editorial page, there was an article on private citizens helping to build schools abroad.

May I ask Mr. Drummond, what about the schools in our own country that are calling for aid? When our schools are in such a condition that certain elements are trying hard to persuade finance from the federal government, how can anyone advocate private citizens sending money abroad for building schools? Why not use the private citizens' collections here at home?

If private citizen Gene Bradley's P-TA had $750 for which they had no immediate use, why ask a U. S. aid director in Turkey what he would do with it? How did the P-TA raise the $750 and for what purpose if they had no immediate use for it? Could they not have given it to some needy school in that area?

It is indeed pathetic to know there are thousands of children abroad "woefully lacking in education," but the very same thing exists right here in our own country. . . .

The $1,000 that would build a small school in Colombia, and the money it would take to build the mentioned 3,000 others, would also build schools in critically needed U. S. areas. . . .

Writer Defends Mrs. Hanford

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I can't defend and I'm not in agreement with Mrs. Hanford's views on integration, but I certainly wish to defend her as a person.

In her letter, "Who Is Moving In Next Door," Mrs. Hanford merely stated an attitude toward integration that is held by countless thousands of her fellow citizens. This she had a clear right to do. Her only crime seems to be that she expressed herself in a flamboyant and aggressive manner and style.

On the other hand most of the letters published in answer to Mrs. Hanford's views on integration attacked her personally, rather than offering constructive thoughts on the problem of integration as a whole.

Such disgusting statements as, "Why doesn't she go back to the South where she can throw rocks at Negro children on their way to school?" seemed to set the tenor for most of the rebuttal letters.

It is indeed sad to realize that such gross vindictiveness and common coarseness, as exemplified by the rebuttal letters, exist in Marin County.

I just wish to say that we have been taking and enjoying the Independent-Journal for twenty years.

Your combination and treatment of local, Bay Area, state, national and international news simply is unsurpassed.

I can't conceive of anyone living in Marin County and not being an Independent-Journal subscriber.

I travel extensively and enjoy the "Capital Journal" up in Salem, the Eugene Register Guard and the Salinas Californian, but none of them can tap our I-J.

There Might Not Be 'Lois Hanford'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A recent letter to the Independent-Journal, sent by a "Mrs. Lois Hanford" from the San Geronimo Valley, may have left the impression in the minds of many readers that the San Geronimo Valley is well populated with people who agree with "Mrs. Lois Hanford." . . . I believe there are few people in the San Geronimo Valley who believe as "Mrs. Lois Hanford" believes.

I do not mean to infer that all of the people . . are looking forward to and will welcome integration. I am certain, however, that most of the people of this valley support the Constitutional Rights of our citizens, whoever they may be. . . .

I would also like to point out that there may be no such person whose name is "Mrs. Lois Hanford" living in the San Geronimo Valley. I say this because:

(1) She cannot be located in the Marin County telephone directory; (2) she is not a homeowner in the San Geronimo Valley, and (3) no person by that name receives mail, or has ever received mail, at the San Geronimo Valley Post Office.

There are many replies to her/his letter to you, and they await her/him in the San Geronimo Valley Post Office, but she/he has not put in an appearance to claim them. Someone wrote that letter to you and now that someone hides alone to protect herself/himself. . . .

Let us offer her/him our hand in great sympathy, realizing that in the depths of darkness lie the weak and afraid.

ONE OF THE best remembered of the wild parties staged during prohibition days was the one hosted by producer Earl Carroll, in which he offered a chorus girl $50 to take a bath for the entertainment of his fastidious guests. The gendarmes broke up the party, and Carroll never got around to paying the girl her $50. Several mothers of other girls in the same chorus line expressed deep concern — not at the bathtub routine, but at the non-payment. As one of them put it, "WHERE was her mother?"

3 Younger Politicians Making Bid For Rise Up Political Ladder

WASHINGTON — If they can survive the elections this year, which is quite probable, we shall be witnessing the rising stars of three new-generation political leaders of great national potential.

They make quite a luminous constellation:

Forty-five-year-old Charles H. Percy — an Eisenhower protege — who will be running for his first public office, the governorship of Illinois.

Forty-seven-year-old Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio—a more magnetic version of his famous father — who will be seeking to move up to the United States Senate.

Thirty-two-year-old Edward M. Kennedy — a protege of the late president—who will be asking the voters of Massachusetts to give him a full six-year term in the Senate.

Rarely have we had so many promising young politicians simultaneously reaching for the upper rungs of the national political ladder.

YOUNG BOB TAFT, finishing his first term as congressman-at-large from Ohio, and Ted Kennedy, the youngest of the brothers, both got their first opportunities to enter public life, in part, because they bore distinguished political names.

Chuck Percy had to make his own name in Illinois politics. He did it by decisively taking the Republican gubernatorial primary in his first try and, in doing so, winning 100,000 more votes than Sen. Barry Goldwater received in the Illinois presidential contest.

OBVIOUSLY there can be many uncertain rungs up the political ladder for each of them, even if they surmount the hurdles this fall. But these three young men have special political advantages. Each is extraordinarily personable. Each has capacity and intellect well above the average. Each would have a political base in states—Illinois, Ohio and Massachuetts—that provide most effective fulcrums for political advancement.

There are few Washington correspondents who would rule out any of them as future presidential timber. If they are elected this November, the party professionals and the political writers will be watching them closely.

Ted Kennedy's vote-getting strength—and name—in his own state should help President Lyndon B. Johnson in Massachusetts.

AS CHAIRMAN of the resolutions committee at the Republican convention in 1960, Percy not only helped to shape the national platform, but presented it to the convention floor with some 50 million television viewers looking on. The 1964 Republican presidential nominee will be better off in Illinois with Percy on the ticket.

Bob Taft inherited much of the popularity and prestige of his father — and by now has earned title to it by his own record.

The Illinois primary, which gave Percy such a big lift, left new question marks in front of the presidential candidacy of Goldwater. He won, but in part only because his only opponent on the ballot was Margaret Chase Smith. He gained most of the Illinois delegates, but he would have had them even if he had stayed out of the balloting.

THE ILLINOIS result was less impressive than Goldwater's backers had hoped. They figured on something like 80 per cent. But Mrs. Smith piled up 25 per cent of the vote, and there were 47,000 write-ins for Lodge where a write-in was extremely difficult.

If Goldwater loses Oregon to Lodge, as now seems likely, he will have to win California decisively to remain in serious contention.

Johnson Staff In Struggle For Power

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A three-way power struggle is raging within the White House staff over personnel appointments and domestic policy recommendations.

This politically explosive dispute, which only President Lyndon B. Johnson can decide, is coming to a head over the proposed appointment of Wilson D. McCarthy, congressional relations officer of the Peace Corps, to the White House staff.

McCarthy, 34, known as a "Bobby Kennedy man" within administration circles, is being strongly pushed for the White House post by presidential aides Bill Moyers, former deputy director of the Peace Corps, and J. J. Valenti, special consultant to the president.

A CLOSE FRIEND of Moyers when both worked in the Peace Corps, McCarthy is being urged by the former as the one person who could serve as a communication link between the president and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Opposing McCarthy's selection are veteran Johnson aides Walter Jenkins, special presidential assistant, and Clifton Carter, the White House's top political adviser.

They argue that McCarthy, a pre-convention supporter of the late President John F. Kennedy, is a "Kennedy rather than a Johnson man."

The third group of White House aides, known as the "Kennedy holdovers" and headed by special presidential assistant Kenneth O'Donnell, is supporting McCarthy.

A MAJOR EFFORT is being made by a group of State Department and Central Intelligence Agency authorities to whitewash, cover up and ridicule the disclosures made by Polish defector Col. Michael Goleniewski, since they involve treason in both agencies. Rep. Michael Feighan (D-Ohio), one of the few members of Congress who has talked to Goleniewski, reports that the Polish defector is in good health and mind, although worried that the Russians may try to kill him.

Latest information being "leaked" to Washington columnists by CIA officials involves the Russians' appraisal of Johnson. It goes like this: "Top Soviet officials (no names) say they do not plan to arrive at any firm judgments on the nature and intentions of President Johnson until after the American elections."

IN EXTENDING Gen. Curtis LeMay's tenure as Air Force chief of staff until the end of the year, Johnson turned down a recommendation by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara to replace the tough, frank-speaking general.

Early readers of this column were not startled by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur's reported appraisal of Gen. Matthew Ridgway ("way at the bottom, a chameleon"). In 1952 this column published inside details of how MacArthur tried to block Ridgway's fourth star. President Harry Truman ordered a full investigation of how the information was obtained. According to an aide of Gen. Omar Bradley, the investigation was concluded with a report stating: "Source unknown."

Garbled Shakespeare Is Off The Track At Rail Tunnel Hearing

EVEN SHAKESPEARE got into the legal action recently over Northwestern Pacific Railroad's attempt to abandon its line leading into Southern Marin.

This was in San Francisco during the latest in a series of hearings set in motion by NWP almost three years ago after the Puerto Suello Tunnel fire.

I think it was Shakespeare who entered the hearing. Everything gets a little blurred in those courtrooms. It might have been someone else speaking or else it was a legal paraphrase of the Bard.

Judge A. J. Zirpoli, presiding judge at the NWP hearing, started out with Shakespeare when he said, "What is past . . ."

Then he got stuck and a colleague, Judge W. T. Sweigert, filled the void by saying, "The history of the past is the prologue to the future."

WHAT SHAKESPEARE said in "The Tempest" was "What is past is prologue."

But Judge Zirpoli thanked Judge Sweigert for his help and the hearing rumbled on down less epigrammatic tracks.

Now it could be that Judge Sweigert was quoting some worthy, but his phrase has a legal character in marked contrast with the poetic simplicity of Shakespeare. Sweigert's quote takes 11 words to cover the thought. Shakespeare did it in five.

Another thing that makes me think Sweigert was paraphrasing is that his quote does not show up in Bartlett's Familiar Quotations.

This literary journey, of course, is far off the track, but it is not much farther off than NWP has gone in its efforts to keep the tunnel closed.

RANDOLPH KARR, attorney for the railroad, was telling the court that the company did not want to re-open the line because it did not know whether or not it would make money in the future.

But it did make money before the fire, Judge Zirpoli declared. He reminded Karr that the company's own figures showed that. That was when Shakespeare came in with the bit on prologue.

This was all during Karr's argument that the money a railroad can make on a line should be considered in an abandonment proceeding. He predicted the railroad would not make the kind of profits it should make if the line were to be re-opened.

JUDGE ZIRPOLI said the only question as he saw it was one of public need and necessity and whether the Interstate Commerce Commission had enough evidence of public need and necessity when it ruled that the railroad should re-open the tunnel.

NWP in this most recent hearing was trying to get the federal court to set the ICC's ruling aside. If the railroad fails to get what it wants, it can go to the United States Supreme Court. All of which is rather discouraging when you remember how much legal talk there has been already and when you remember Shakespeare.

Is the past really prologue?

Fearless Dean Of Pundits Gives Exclusive Forecast On GOP Choice

TUCSON, Ariz.—It appears that everyone is concerned over who the Republican candidate for president is going to be. As usual, we're the first columnist to go out on a limb and make a prediction. Despite upcoming primaries, polls, and events, we will not change our prediction. That's why we're know as the Fearless Dean of Pundits.

This is how we see it. Both Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller will withdraw their names from the convention in San Francisco — not because either one of them does not want the job, but by then both will have run out of money because they fought each other so hard in the primaries.

It has become a political fact of life that anyone who runs in a primary cannot afford to run for election. You have to do either one or the other. Nobody can foot the bill for both.

With Goldwater and Rockefeller out of the race, Richard Nixon will make his move. But Republican professionals are against Nixon, and will refuse to have him on the ticket. The Republican pros are not afraid Nixon will lose (they more or less expect it of him) as much as they are afraid he'll get mad at the press again.

This will allow Henry Cabot Lodge supporters to make an all-out effort for their candidate.

But Ambassador Lodge will say he prefers to remain in Vietnam while the convention is going on. Running on a "Better to Lose Vietnam Than the United State's platform, Lodge supporters will base their pitch on the fact that the ambassador is the only candidate the voters haven't heard or seen and therefore has the best chance of winning. But the Republican delegates will turn him down, not because he lacks popular appeal, but because he accepted a political appointment from a Democratic president.

THIS WILL open up a chance for Governor Scranton to be drafted. Unfortunately, Gov. William W. Scranton has announced he doesn't want the nomination and he has never sought it. This will infuriate Goldwater and Rockefeller, who went broke trying to get it, so they will join forces to prevent Scranton from being drafted.

With Scranton defeated by his own strategy, Margaret Chase Smith will try to rally the convention behind her. She might almost make it except for reservations among certain Republicans about having a woman in the White House. What will probably defeat her is her own campaign slogan: "If I am elected, I will appoint 50 men to high posts in the government."

This leaves one more candidate, Harold Stassen. As a candidate Stassen should have a good chance.

HE'S USED TO losing, he has sympathy, a charming smile, and despite the many times he's run for the office, nobody knows who he is. Unfortunately Stassen will be so sure of not getting the nomination again, he will withdraw his name before he is nominated.

Then who will the Republican candidate be? It is our prediction, based on personal polling, computer research, and political experience, that there will be no Republican candidate in 1964. By the time the convention rolls around, everyone will have knocked each other out of the box and the convention will adjourn without nominating anyone. If our prediction comes true, we ask only one favor of you. Remember you first read it here.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Play Bridge Quickly To Make Your Opponents Have Errors

If you play bridge quickly, you'll make more mistakes than if you play slowly, but so will your opponents.

They will tend to adopt your tempo without even noticing it. For this reason, it pays to race through the play of a certain type of hand.

When this hand came along in a Houston bridge club recently, South took too long to decide on his line of play. This gave East a chance to think.

FIRST TRICK

South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds after a considerable pause for thought. Then he returned his low diamond.

West won with the queen of diamonds, and East signalled enthusiastically with the king of hearts. West obediently switched to hearts, and dummy's ace won.

Now declarer led the jack of diamonds from dummy, and East saw through the plot. "Why didn't South draw trumps first?" East wondered. And then he got to wondering what sort of hand South could have for his opening two-bid if he still had a losing heart.

DOES NOT RUFF

With all of these thoughts in mind, East carefully refrained from wasting a small trump on dummy's jack of diamonds. Instead, East discarded a heart.

South had led the jack of diamonds from dummy for the sole purpose of coaxing a trump from the East hand.

It would be much easier to cope with the queen of spades if the opponents had only three trumps between them instead of four.

REFUSED RUFF

When East refused to ruff, South began to think. Surely, thought South, a defender with only worthless trumps would ruff the jack of diamonds. Hence South came to the conclusion that East had the queen of spades, and he promptly led the eight of spades from dummy for a finesse.

Down one.

If South had played the hand just the same way but much faster, East would have played without much thought. He would have ruffed the jack of diamonds since his trumps were worthless anyway.

And then South would have captured the queen of spades.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, April 22, the 113th day of 1964 with 253 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1864, Congress authorized the mint to use the motto "In God We Trust" on U. S. coins.

In 1898, the U. S. Navy fired the first shot of the Spanish-American War.

In 1915, the German Army began using poison gas in World War I in violation of the rules of the Hague Convention.

A thought for the day — French novelist Marcel Proust said: "The time which we have at our disposal every day is elastic; the passions that we feel expand it, those that we inspire contact it, and habit fills up what remains."

Two Youths Honored For Scholarship

Walter R. Sullivan, a San Rafael High School senior, today was named the winner of a four-year National Merit Scholarship to Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, Pa.

A second outstanding San Rafael High School student, John A. McKinnon, son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. McKinnon of 72 Lochinvar Road, San Rafeal, was named an honorary merit scholar.

Sullivan, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert E. Sullivan of 233 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, won one of 30 scholarships provided by the Air Force. He is planning a career in communications electronics.

He is president of the San Rafael High School advanced band and a member of the Key Club. He is quartermaster of communications in Explorer Post 222 and a member of Marin County Composite Squadron 4 of the Civil Air Patrol.

He also serves as a tutor in chemistry and mathematics for the California Scholarship Federation at the high school and has been twice awarded certificates of educational development by Science Research Associates Inc.

The amount of the scholarship is based on the student's need and most of them are accompanied by a supplementary grant to the college the winner has chosen to attend.

OTHER HONORED

McKinnon's being named an honorary merit scholar was in recognition of his achievement in the competition sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corp. but does not include financial assistance from the program.

McKinnon has been a member of the San Rafael High School's varsity basketball team since his sophomore year, a member of the high school's orchestra for four years and the Marin Youth Orchestra for five years, and was elected president of the senior class last semester.

VALUABLE PLAYER

He was recently voted one of the two most valuable varsity basketball players and has twice been voted to the all-Marin Athletic League team. An Eagle Scout and former member of Boy Scout Troop 55, he also has served two terms on the San Rafael High School student council and one term on the student court.

McKinnon has been accepted in the freshman class of Stanford University, Amherst College in Massachusetts and Harvard University in Massachusetts but has not yet decided which school he will enter.

Laborer Booked For Assault In Debt Argument

A 35-year-old Marin City laborer, Dave Johnson, was booked in Marin County jail Monday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon during an argument over a construction debt.

Deputies said William C. Davis, cement contractor of 1288 Cambridge Street, Novato, told them Johnson approached him Monday morning at a Bel Marin Keys construction project near Ignacio and demanded money Johnson claimed Davis owed him.

Davis said Johnson threatened him with a hammer. Davis fled, but fell. As he did so, Johnson hit him on the right arm with the hammer, he claimed.

Davis was treated for a small cut at Novato Hospital.

Johnson was free on $550 bail today.

School Choir Sets Concert

San Rafael High School's 79-voice a cappella choir will present a concert ranging from Renaissance to modern music at the high school auditorium May 5 at 8 p.m.

The group will be directed by Byron Jones, director of vocal music for San Rafael city schools, and accompanied by pianist Lois LeRud, a San Rafael High School student.

Three groups within the choir, the Women's Chorus, the Men's Chorus and the Chamber Choir, each will sing special selections, and Miss LeRud will play a Debussy prelude as a solo.

Starling Problem Appear To Have Flown The Coop

But Only Matter Of Time Until Pesky Birds Stay

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

With fingers crossed, a Marin County agricultural official this week said the tough, pesky, expensive starling problem appears to have flown away again for the summer.

But at the same time, asst. agricultural commissioner R. Allan Ballard conceded it is only a question of time until the "fat, black, stubby creatures" begin to build nests and stay around for the summer.

"And when that happens," he said, "look out."

Queried about reports that starlings have begun nesting in Sonoma County, Ballard, said his department has heard of none in Marin.

"Our problem time has passed," he said, explaining that, until mid-March, the troublesome birds were infesting the Dillon Beach area. A Dillon Beach beef rancher and a Point Reyes dairy farmer were among victims of the starling's scavenging.

They left, following their customary migration schedule, about March 12. "I have not seen any for a month," Ballard said.

But the county aide admitted his optimism is guarded, since the problem has become one of the fastest growing and most difficult ones to face California agriculture in the state's history. Thousands of dollars have been spent on research to develop methods for killing the birds or driving them away.

Every method tried so far has failed. Some, such as the widely publicized system of broadcasting the birds' distress calls, worked for awhile; then the wily creatures caught on and ignored them.

Meanwhile, state experts say the starlings' birthrate has increased. Where a pair of the birds once raised only one set of offspring each year, it is now believed they raise two and sometimes three.

The cost to ranches or vineyards can be staggering, Ballard said, noting that the Dillon Beach rancher has estimated his monthly feed bills have gone down $200 since the starlings left.

Since state agriculturalists fear "the worst is yet to come," they are urging each county's officials to keep an eye out for spring nesting. Ballard said he had been advised to watch in the cities, as well as rural areas.

Many citizens, even farmers, sometimes mistake starlings for blackbirds, until they learn to watch out for starlings' short tails and distinctive mode of flight, Ballard pointed out.

"We have spent many man hours on this problem," he concluded, "and so far, we have been lucky in Marin. But we can see they are going to increase.

"People thought the pigeons in San Francisco were something. Wait until they see those starlings when they move in!"

(d) The acquisition of all easements, property and works and the construction of all improvements auxiliary to any of the above and necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Board of Supervisors of said County, and on file for public inspection in the office of the County Clerk.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the County Clerk, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. The estimated cost of said project is $31,592.22.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided by Division 7 of the Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Act of 1911, and the last installment of such bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be made payable to bearer and provide a premium of 5% of the unmatured principal thereof on call.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the County Clerk.

Notice is further given that the Engineer of Work pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto did on the 7th day of April, 1964, file with the County Clerk of said County his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Tuesday, the 12th day of May, 1964, at the hour of 3:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Supervisors Room, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions and that any person interested may file a written protest with the County Clerk at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessment, and maps and descriptions for a more particular description of said acquisitions and improvements to be had and done, and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the County Clerk.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that, in the opinion of the Board, the areas contained within said proposed assessment district are the properties which will be benefited by the maintenance and operation of a sanitary sewerage system to be constructed, and that the public interest and convenience require, and that it is the intention of the Board to form said area into a Sewer Maintenance District under and pursuant to Chapter 26 of Part 3 of Division 7 of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California, to be known as "San Quentin Village Sewer Maintenance District", for the purpose of maintaining and operating said sanitary sewerage facilities to be constructed, and any additions, improvements and enlargements thereto which may hereafter be made, and that a hearing will be had on said matter by the Board at the same time as the hearing on said report, at which time any and all persons interested may be heard.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; provided, that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given the Board of Supervisors notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.
PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale, but not prior to the date of the bond.
RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event, the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.
FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to the date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of San Rafael School District of Marin County."
BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $1,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said school district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the district on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the district. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.
There is no controversy or litigation pending concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said district or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Contractors' License Not Needed: Mosk

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A property owner does not have to obtain a contractor's license to build on his own property, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk ruled yesterday.
Mosk said such requirements, added to the contractors' license law last year, put "an unconstitutional restriction upon the right of an owner to deal with his property."
"A landowner is not required to obtain a contractor's license when he contracts with a licensed contractor to construct any project on his own land," the opinion said.
The ruling was requested by Assemblyman Robert E. Badham (R-Costa Mesa) and prepared by Deputy Atty. Gen. Seward L. Andrews of Sacramento.

Tam Valley Club Fights Appraisal

An appraisal is being made of the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Clubhouse site and building so the club may contest the county's appraisal of $3,415, Albert Bianchi, attorney for the club, said today.
Bianchi said the county has advised the superior court of the appraisal made on behalf of the army Corps of Engineers and the county. The price is entirely inadequate, the attorney said, and the club plans to fight for a better one.
The clubhouse on Maple Street near Shoreline Highway is to be torn down shortly to make way for a flood control project.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Children's Nosebleeds Common; Cases In Adults Can Be Obscure

VAN DELLEN

Nasal bleeding (epistaxis) is common in children and usually stops spontaneously. When it continues, have the child sit up and pinch the nose gently between the fingers. This works as a rule because bleeding stems usually from scratching or from a broken blood vessel in the septum near the end of a nostril.
Frequent epistaxis needs a more thorough search for the cause. Possibilities include certain diseases, such as rheumatic fever, nephritis (Bright's disease), and leukemia. Now and then nosebleed is the first indication that the child is a bleeder. A developmental defect of the nose is suspected when hemorrhage occurs during the first few days of life.
BUT THESE origins are rare. Injury heads the list of causes. This includes removal of dry crusts by blowing hard or picking, which tears the membrane and opens small vessels. Dryness can be minimized by adding moisture to the air and applying petrolatum to soften the membrane. Do not insert too much, especially in children because oil may drop into the back of the throat and find its way into the lungs.
Foreign bodies such as a peanut, bead, or an eraser may be responsible. Johnny neglects to mention it because of fear or lapse of memory. These objects may produce considerable irritation and the blood will be mixed with purulent material.
IN ADULTS THE cause often is obscure. The nose starts bleeding for no apparent reason. A hardened artery may break and the situation is worsened if the individual has high blood pressure.
The granddaddy of all nosebleeds is caused by hereditary telangiectasia. In this condition, the blood vessels in the lining membranes of the nose are so fragile they bleed profusely on the slightest provocation. Blood transfusions may be needed, particularly when packing does not control hemorrhage. A unique operation was devised several years ago, which reduced bleeding 80 per cent. The nasal membrane was removed and replaced with skin.

REPLY
Yes, but in many instances the residual muscle weakness cannot be detected except by an expert.

STIFF TOE

REPLY
Arthritis, including gout. Perhaps this toe objects to being covered, and wants to go bare.

No. If the temperature is subzero, the skin may become chapped.

REPLY
Yes, especially the vitamin B complex.

ENJOY YOUR MEALS
B. F. writes: Is it important for healthy persons with no digestive problems to eat slowly and chew the food well?

No. they are left in place unless infection develops.

Scientist Discovers New Natural Substance

By WIL LEPKOWSKI
Advance News Service

CHICAGO — A New York biochemist has discovered a totally new class of natural substances that could rank alongside vitamins and antibiotics in importance to man.
He calls them "pacifarins." They seem to exist in tiny amounts in natural foods and give animals the uncanny ability to live "peacefully" with otherwise infective germs. Pacifarins possibly explain why people in one part of the world resist diseases that afflict those in another part of the world.

Dr. Howard A. Schneider of the Rockefeller Institute thinks it is time for nutrition research to come up to date and ferret out these substances.

He says nutrition researchers must begin to get familiar with the genetic differences within the same species of animals. They must learn how these differences affect health amid the safeguards and strains of the natural environment. This involves a much broader examination of the role of diet in disease prevention over entire populations.
Dr. Schneider reported the latest results in his pacifarin research to a nutrition session at the 48th meeting of the Federation of American Societies for experimental biology. He elaborated on his ideas in an interview.
For the last two decades, Schneider has been studying the details of a pacifarin called SRE — short for salmonellosis resistance factor. It enables mice and chickens to live contentedly with the otherwise fatal germ that causes typhoid fever. It is the first and so far the only definite pacifarin known. Schneider is convinced, however, there are others that will come to light once researchers start looking for them.

He extracts his SRF pacifarin from a liquidfied mixture of egg white and a certain type of bacteria. This source gives him the best yield, although his first source was the natural wheat that was fed to Rockefeller Institute laboratory mice.

Schneider says the immunity mechanism of the mice has nothing to do with pacifarin effectiveness. The term is not attacked by antibodies or scavenger cells. It simply lives harmlessly and unharmed in the bodies of the mice — kept in check by pacifarin. Without the factor, typhoid fever ravages the bodies of the mice.

How would pacifarin apply to human health? To illustrate, Schneider said influenza never has been completely under control. "Just as soon as somebody thinks he's developed a vaccine against it," Schneider said, "a new resistant strain pops up somewhere else. The flu issue is by no means settled yet. But a possible flu pacifarin could settle it."

A researcher would try to collect as genetically complete a mixture of a single animal as possible — say mice. Under carefully controlled conditions the scientist would feed the mice different "natural" diets, looking for the one that would confer resistance to the flu. On finding it, he would then try to separate the pacifarin.

The difficulties would be in getting complete genetic mixtures of mice — representative samples of possible variables of a mouse strain — and in finding a truly natural diet. Both processes would be arduous and time consuming.

"My general approach," said Schneider, "is not to construct disease defenses on denial of disease factors, as is usually done today, but to find out more about the natural forces that are in operation to prevent disease."

Senior Makes Perfect Score In Math Test

Joseph Allan Killian, senior at Novato High School, made a perfect score of 800 in the advanced mathematics test of the college entrance examination board, according to Joseph Gargiulo, counselor at the high school.

Killian also made a near-perfect 799 score in physics without ever having taken a course in physics, Gargiulo said. He also made a 734 in chemisry.

"This is the first perfect score of its kind in the history of Novato High School," Gargiulo said. He said that, to his knowledge, only two other such scores were reported in Marin County this year.

Killian is a son of Col. and Mrs. Joseph O. Killian of 2052 Shady Lane, Novato.

Sister City Exchange Plan

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors yesterday agreed to contribute to a fund which would send exchange students to Sausalito's sister city, Vina del Mar, Chile.

No specific sum was set, said Victor E. Hecht, executive secretary, adding that the board will explore the matter further.

The board decided to proceed with plans for the annual art festival to be held on Labor Day weekend and named William Remak as chairman. Directors, said Hecht, are interested in the May in Marin festival but could not determine what Sausalito might take part in this year. "We will take a more active part in the event next year when we have more time to plan," said Hecht.
